Wincle and Nephew Arrested.

KNOXVILLE (Tenn...) April 21.—
Wesley Dawes and C. S. Givens of Jefferson county, accused of the murder of Givens's wife, have been lodged in Knox-county Jali for safe-keeping, as violence was feared unless the prisoners were removed from near the scene of the crime. Dawes is a nephew of Givens, and has made a confession of the murder, saying that he had been persuaded to do it by his uncle, who tired of his wife and was infatuated with another woman. The deed was committed with a double-barreled shotgun while Mrs. Givens was at a window, sewing, having been enticed there by her husband.

Great Excitement at New Orleans.

The Citizens' League Triumphant Over the Boodlers.

Armed Volunteers Guarding the Polls and Boxes.

The Massachusetts and Rhode Island Democrats Declare for Ex-Gov. Russell-Eckels, Says He Was Misquoted.

GY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE NEW ORLEANS (La.,) April 21.-New Orleans has wiped the boodlers off the face of the earth and, despite one of the strongest ring organizations in the country, the Citizens' League has won the fight by a majority of from ten to fifteen thousand. The ring is deny-ing the count, but the league has armed volunteers guarding the polls and boxes, and no trick will prevail.

There never was such excitement in the city on election day, and thou-sands are on the streets tonight, ready to answer any calf. The remarkable part of today's election was the loy-alty of the negro to the cause of reform, despite the efforts of old-time Republican leaders to throw the vote to the ring. The negroes were proof against bribery and threats and gave the league a heavy vote.

Gov. Foster's failure to interfere for an honest election in the city until the last moment hurt his vote in the city and the majorities in the county have been reduced, but Foster will probably carry the State by from ten to fifteen thousand. The Governor's home parish gave Pharr, the combine candidate, 2500 majority, owing to the sugar planters who have joined the Republican

QUIET AT OPELOUSAS. OPELOUSAS (La.) April 21.—The regulators, after remaining in camp near this place until after midnight near this place until after midnight and announcing that they would come in and take possession of the courthouse this morning, quietly dispersed. There was no interference with voters as far as known, though it is asserted that many negroes, through fear of violence at the hands of the sgulators, have surrendered their registration papers, or signed certificates agreeing not to register or vote.

THE POLLING AT NEW OBLEANS

THE POLLING AT NEW ORLEANS NEW ORLEANS, April 21.—Polling booths were opened at 6 o'clock and voting is going on quietly. No disturbance is reported from any section of the State. The election today is for State, city and parochial offices.

A BAY STATE FAVORITE SON. BOSTON, April 21.—With an enthusi-asm almost surpassing that noted at the recent State convention of the Republicans of Massachusetts, when Thomas B. Reed was indorsed as a Presidential candidate, the Democrats of this State today set their approval upon Cleveland as President, and named ex-Governor William E. Russell as their choice for his successor. Judge John W. Corcoran called the convention to order. Thomas J. Cargan of Boston was named as chairman of the Committee on Resolutions.

John E. Thayer of Worcester was chosen permanent chairman. In his address he claimed the Democracy is the party of the people. Under the influence of its efforts, he said, capital and labor are coming to a more intelligent understanding of the rights of both, preparing the way for a puricelle adjustment the recent State convention of the Re iding of the rights of both, prepar ing the way for an amicable adjustment of economical and industrial questions. The speaker said that pledges made at the Democratic National Convention

ing the way for an amicable adjustment of economical and industrial questions. The speaker said that pledges made at the Democratic National Convention four years ago to repeal the laws enacted for the purpose of perpetuating one party in power had been redeemed. The Force Bill, the Sherman Purchase Bill and McKinley Tariff Bill were things of the past. The repeal of the two measures last mentioned had, he said, been followed by a return of prosperity. The charge of the Republicans that the Democrats failed to provide revenue sufficient for the wants of the government was met with a citation of the income-tax law, which, although identical with an earlier law for the same purpose, had been declared unconstitutional by the United States Supreme Court.

Thayer took ground against the free coinage of silver. "The true interests of all our people," he said, "who cannot constantly and closely observe the money market is to have every dollar issued or authorized by the government at all times and in all its uses an exact unchanging equivalent, not only in the debt-paying, but in the purchasing power of any dollar. Of what avall is it to pass resolutions for a single gold standard if, as now appears quite probable, McKinley is to receive the nomination for President? The people will know that McKinley has a long, consistent and uninterrupted record while in Congress favorable to silver. We do not forget that, as a chairman of the Committee on Resolutions of the Republican National Convention in 1888, he submitted a platform which condemned the policy of the Democratic administration in its efforts to demonetize silver. We see him in his commanding position as chairman of the Ways and Means Committee urgently supporting the Silver-Purchase Bill, which increased the amount of silver which the government was forced to purchase, even under the Bland-Allison law."

Thayer denounced the American Protective Association, which he compared to a "fungus growth that sprang from and took root, flourished and fructified in the ver tender notes and "elastic banking currency;" recommends the admission of raw material free of duty and, while not pledging delegates to Chicago, advises them to support William E. Russell for Presidential nomination.

At the mention of William Eustis Russell as the choice of the Massachusetts Democracy for President a mighty cheer went up, which was repeated again and again. The resolutions were unanimously adopted. E. M. Ezquel, W. P. Butler, Henry V. Cunningham and Fisher Pearson were elected alternates. The convention adjourned.

Democratic convention to choose eight delegates for the national convention assembled today. There was but little enthusiasm and many towns were not represented. Richard. E. Comstock presided. The references in his speech to the reference in his speech to william E. Russell received great applause, especially when he asserted that Russell would, as Presidential candidate, again lead the party to victory. George W. Green was chairman of the Committee on Resolutions. The platform adopted indorses the administration of Grover Cleveland, especially commending "its firmness and ability in maintaining, unaided by Congress, the credit of the nation." It continued: "It is vital to the interests of our people that there should be no departure from the gold standard, to which all money, whether gold, sliver or paper, should conform, and we are opposed to the free coinage of silver until at least four of the great powers of the western world shall come to an international agreement, establishing the ratio at which gold and silver shall be admitted to mintage. We believe the Wilson bill was a step in the right direction, and should be given a fair test. We do not believe in reciprocity as impractical and unnecessary, and as tending to create hostilities against us."

The platform commends "to the delegates at the Chicago convention one who will make an ideal President, William E. Russell's name called forth a great demonstration. The convention elected as delegates Richard B. Comstock, George W. Green, Miles ECKELS WAS MISREPRESENTED. CHICAGO, April 21.—J. E. Eckels, Controller of the Currency, said today: "A curious typographical error in a morning paper made me say precisely the thing that I did not say respecting my impressions of the President's attitude. I understand the error was repeated all over the country. I said: 'I do not know anything positively about President Cleveland's intentions or wishes relative to the Presidency, but my impression is that he feels there is no reason why he should be willing to enter another Presidential canvass.' The printers made it 'unwilling,' exactly reversing my meaning." ECKELS WAS MISREPRESENTED. ALABAMA DEMOCRATS.

ALABAMA DEMOCRATS.

MONTGOMERY (Ala.,) April 21.—The State convention will adopt a platform in favor of free coinage of silver at 16 to 1, and instruct the delegation to Chicago on the same line. The delegation slated for the State-at-large consists of Senators Morgan and Pugh, Congressman Bankhead and Gen, Pettius. The nomination of Capt. Johnston for Governor by a majority of 3 to 1 is conceded.

Permanent Chairman Bankhead re-

conceded.

Permanent Chairman Bankhead resumed at the evening session, and delivered an address to the convention advising Democrats they must stand together and their only chance to win was under the 16-to-1 banner. The committee is a partisan free-coinage one, and it has been ascertained that the platform will call for an out-and-out declaration for the free coinage of silver at 16 to 1, without regard to the policy of other nations.

The first business tomorrow will be the adoption of a platform which will be followed by the nomination of Joseph F. Johnson as Governor. The free-silver men are masters of the situation.

His address was an eloquent argument in favor of the protective tariff and sound money. The first witness called was John Huling, the boy who found the dead body of Miss Bryan. The second witness, Dr. W. S. Tindley, who saw the body two hours after its discovery, and who attended both post-mortems, gave expert testimony. He said that the girl must have been killed where the body was found, and not earlier than the midnight before her body was found; that the knife that cut her head off was a sharp instrument, and the hand that wielded it a skilled hand. Judge Helm then started to cross-examine the witness. The defense objected, was overruled and took exceptions.

Jackson was calm all day, and took notice of the proceedings, especially of the testimony. He was taken back to jail without being handcuffed.

WASHINGTON, April 21 .- The Senwashington, April 21.—The Senate spent the day on the Indian Appropriation Bill, but did not complete it. The sectarian-school question was taken up late in the day, and brought about an animated debate, Senators Gallinger, Teller and Thurston opposing and Senators Gray and Pettigrew supporting the amendment offered by Senator Cockrall extending for the control of the senator Cockrall extending for the control of the senator Cockrall extending for the senator cockral ator Cockrell, extending for two years the time for the entire abandonment of sectarian schools. Invalid Aid Society for the purpose of establishing a sanitarium for treatment of pulmonary diseases.

Senator Pugh of Alabama presented the minority report of his colleague, Senator Morgan, on the Pacific Railway Bill. Senator Pugh read a note from Morgan, who was about to leave the city, stating that the minority report was directed against three bills introduced for Pacific Railway readjustment, and not merely a response to the substitute bill just presented by the committee, which bill, said Morgan's note, "was never seen and discussed by me"

Senator Cannon of Utah was recognized for a speech supporting his resolution for a huge ground map, covering 625 acres, located near Washington, showing the entire topography and geography of the United States. He explained that the map would give an object-lesson of the extent of our country. The Mississippi River would be shown by an actual stream three feet wide and 2000 yards long. Lake Michigan would have 22,000 square yards of igan would have 22,000 square yards of Senator Cannon said he would have the map include "Crucified Cuba," and also leave sufficient space to the north o permit the addition of other coun tries which might choose to join the Union. The bill was referred to the Committee on Public Buildings and Grounds. The Indian bill was then taken up and the debate proceeded on the claims of lawyers for services in connection with the Choctaw settlement.

Senator Chandler moved an amendment to the provision for the payment of the attorneys of the Cherokee old settlers, requiring the balance due to the Western Cherokee Indians to be retained in the treasury and allowing the person making claims for legal services to sue in the Court of Claims. He spoke in opposition to the claims. After a protracted debate a yea and nay vote was taken on the amendment and it was defeated by 15 to 36. The claims were then agreed to without division and the provisions relating to Indian schools were taken up. The pending question was on the amendment herectore offered by Senator Cockrell of Missouri, declaring it to be the settled policy of the government to make no appropriations to sectarian schools as soon as provision can otherwise be made for Indian children and Senator Chandler moved an amendschools as soon as provision can other-wise be made for Indian children and directing the Secretary of the Interior to make such provisions not later than be made. That is the American doctrine."

Senator George of Mississippi opposed any delay in giving up sectarian schools, which were a standing violation to the Constitution, as well as a manifest injustice to denominations not receiving government aid.

Senator Kyle of South Dakota spoke of the schools now in operation, and the justice of allowing them to surrender their work gradually.

Senator Thurston of Nebraska expressed his respect for every church of Christianity, yet he regarded it as a fundamental principle that the public Benator Gray said he never learned that the foundations of this government were not broad enough for equal justice and toleration to all. The Senator sent to the desk and had read an article by Archbishop Ireland on church and state, and commended its batriotic utterances. The Senator thanked God that there was room in this country for all denominations. Protestantism was not bigotry, he said, and Chrisianity was not fanatacism. Senator Thurston said that he had been misunderstood by Senator Gray, if the latter construed his (Thurston's) course to be a criticism of any denomination. No Senator, proceeded Senator Thurston, exceeded him in revergnce for the bare-footed priest, bearing the cross of Christ and spreading the doctrine of the lowly Nazarene throughout the world.

HOUSE.—At the opening of the House today, Mr. Henderson of Louisiana asked unanimous consent that the Bankruptey Bill, which he gave notice he would call up today, be considered on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week. Mr. Hepburn of Iowa objected. There was great pressure for unanimous consent and a number of minor bills were passed. Among them was the Senate bill for the relief of settlers of Northern Pacific Railway indemnity lands.

Before the debate began, Mr. Cook of Illinois, from the same committee, made a report on the case of John I. Rinaker, Republican, vs. Finis E. Downing, Democrat, from the Sixteenth Illinois District. The report favored the seating of Rinaker. Downing is the only Democratic member of the House from Illinois. Moody of Massachusetts voted with three Democrats on the committee in favor of Downing.

On the face of the returns Mr. Cobb had a majority of 508 votes.

Mr. Royse of Indiana, who opened the debate, said that the white counties in the district gave Mr. Goodwin a majority of 3612, while the three black counties returned majorities so large for Mr. Cobb as to overcome the majority for Mr. Goodwin in the white counties. The testimony, he said, showed extensive frauds in the black counties, which warranted a reduction of Mr. Cobb's vote by 2886, they giving the contestant 2860 plurality.

Mr. Bartlett of Georgia, in behalf of the minority, argued that the contestant had been denied no opportunity to meet testimony adduced in support of the charges of fraud. He declared that fraud was not to be presumed, except upon the strongest proof.

Mr. Cobb, the contestee, took the floor and made an hour's speech in his own behalf. An exciting incident occurred toward the close of Mr. Cobb's remarks.

Mr. Balley of Texas, Mr. Turner of Georgia, Mr. McMillin of Tennessee and several other Democrats jumped to their feet and demanded recognition as matters of privilege and to make parliamentary inquiries. Mr. Barrett was deaf to the clamor, refusing to recognize them for any purpose unless Mr. Daniels yielded.

At 4:50 o'clock Mr. Daniels demanded the previous question, which was ordered. The vote was first taken on the minority resolutions, declaring Mr. Cobb, the sitting member, entitled to his seat. The resolution was defeated on a rising vote by 47 to 109.

Mr. Dinsmore of Arkansas then moved to recommit the case with instructions to the Elections Committee to allow the contestee to submit evidence in rebuttal. The motion to recommit was lost, by 60 to 130. Five Republicans, Messrs. Arnold of Rhode Island, Barrett of Massachusetts, Knox of Massachusetts, Knox of Massachusetts, Knox of Massachusetts, Loud of California, and Willis of Delaware, voted with the Democrats. The majority resolutions were then divided. The first, declaring Mr. Cobb not entitled to the vote, was adopted viva voce, but the quorum failed, 121 to 45, on the resolution declaring Mr. Goodwin entitled to the seat, and at 5:50 o'clock the House adjourned.

SENATOR MORGAN'S MINORITY REPORT.

WASHINGTON, April 21.—Senator Morgan has made public his minority amendment to the report of the Senate Committee on Pacific Roads on the Funding Bill. Senator Morgan calls his Funding Bill. Senator Morgan calls his bill a "bill relating to the jurisdiction of the Court of Appeals of the District of Columbia." To this court is given, by the bill, jurisdiction over all suits brought by the United States to enforce liens on railways or any other property of railway corporations. Separate liens on the different railways in the same suit may be enforced when such railways form or were part of the through line or general system. The holders of the liens on any railway property may be made parties to the suit.

THE CENSURE OF BAYARD

AN INTIMATION THAT SECRETARY OLNEY WAS CONCERNED.

Misrepresentative of the United Runs Up Against the Yankee Statesman on the Venesuels Boundary Dispute.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.)

CHICAGO, April 21.—A special to the Tribune from Washington says that here has been serious friction between was always in order. But all least was obdurate.

Just as the strain was growing intense, Speaker Reed, who had been hurriedly summoned from his private room in the rear of the lobby, ascended the rostrum. He took in the situation at a glance. The trouble had arisen, he explained very quietly to the frate Democrats, from a misunderstanding on the part of the temporary standing on the venezuelan boundary dispute, and Secretary Olney's attempt to give it that application was an untenable position. This view of Mr. Bayard was communicated to this gov ernment in one of his dispatches. This dispatch set forth Ambassador Bayard's opinion that Secretary Olney's memorable letter to Lord Sallsbury of July last was based on untenable grounds, and that it took a position from which the United States would inevitably be forced to retreat, so far as an attempt to apply the Monroe doctrine to the Venezuelan dispute was

The dispatch went into the matter The dispatch went into the matter with considerable detail and was emphatic in character. This, it is thought, explains why Lord Salisbury's reply to Secretary Oiney's note was almost entirely devoted to a refutation of the latter's position that the Venezuela boundary dispute came within the scope of the Monroe doctrine. But Lord Salisbury was in no degree prepared for the extremely belligerent tone of the President's message to Congress, and had it not been that the British Premier felt that a complicated European and Asiatic situation compelled moderation on his part, an equally belligose rejoinder might have come from across the water.

As the relations between Secretary Oiney and Senators Sherman and Lodge and Chairman Hitt of the House Foreign Affairs Committee are of an intimate nature, it is the general opinion that if the Secretary had used his influence he could have headed off the resolutions passed by the House censuring Ambassador Bayard.

Battle Near Omdurman in Which the Khalifa Loses Largely from His Bodyguard.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.) CAPE TOWN, April 21.—(By African Cable, Associated Press Copyright, 1896.) Capt. Napier, with about two hundred men, left Buluwayo yesterday morning men, left Buluwayo yesterday morning on a reconnoitering expedition. The Matabeles, it was believed, had moved southward, intending to intercept the relief corps advancing from Mafeking. But the scouting party was surprised to find the Matabeles in great force about five miles northeast of Buluwayo. Napier's command was fired upon, and returned the fire, then retreated in good order, it being useless for such a small body to engage several thousand Matabeles, apparently equipped with firearms, irearms, firearms.

The return of Napier's party cast a gloom over Buluwayo, as it was believed that extensive works of defense around Buluwayo had convinced the Matabeles that the place was impregnable, and in consequence, they shifted the camp southward. It now appears that while several thousand Matabeles struck camp, there are enough remaining to cause the utmost uneasiness.

It is true that the eighteen wagons, loaded with provisions, have succeeded in entering Buluwayo, but there are many mouths to feed there, and the relief corps is still a long way off and moving slowly, on account of the scarcity of water and the ravages of the rinderpest among the cattle. The officials of the British Chartered Company are doing everything possible under the circumstances; they are paying large honuses to transport riders and volunteers, and are hurrying forward supplies as fast as possible, but here again the deadly rinderpest 'is interfering with the work of relief.

The situation grows darker every day, in spite of the very effective means taken to defend Buluwayo. Fully 200 persons have been killed by the Matabeles since the uprising began, and men of experience in South African warfare claim to see in the tactice of the natives the guiding hand of the leaders of the Transvaal burghers. They insist that the Boers are arming for a struggle with the British for the mastery in South Africa, and that they are actively encouraged and assisted by Germany. The Boers have mustered about 1500 men and several guns, according to report, at a convenient distance from Mafeking, and it is believed that they are more than willing to make common cause with the Matabeles and strike a blow at British supremacy.

ROMAN ROMANCES.

NEW YORK. April 21.—A dispatch to the Herald from Rome says that Maj. Salza has returned to the Italian camp bearing a letter from Menelek for King Humbert. The Czar, who has been offended by the Russiphobe articles in the Italian press, has ordered the recall of Russians from Massowah. A resoript has been issued ordering a rigid censorship of newspaper articles. The opposition press has invented a stupid story to the effect that Gen. Ricotti, the Minister of War, concealed the news of the victory at Adigrat in order to make a theatrical coup by announcing it to the chamber.

The new war loan, in spite of the violent opposition of the Republican section of the press, will be covered on Wednesday next without any recourse to foreign aid.

Maceo had that day fired the Dolores plantation and retired before the Spanish troops. A Spanish captain came to Delagoa's house with twenty men, told the doctor and his seven field hands to follow. Delagoa showed his passport as an American; so did his men.

The captain, said he had nothing to do with the matter; he was obeying orders, but it was his opinion that the worst thing they could do was to show that they were Americans. Arriving at Gen. Malguizo's headquarters, Delagoa add they were neutrals, and then showed their passports. Malguizo became furious. It was then that he struck Delagoa with his machete, exclaiming: "I will shoot you, just as I would the Consul-General if he were here."

There were eight of them taken out and tied together with a rope and placed against a stone wall. The order was to cut the prisoners down with machetes. In attempting this the rope broke, and the soldiers were ordered to fire. At the first volley Delagoa fell forward, feigning death. When he recovered he found himself in his dwelling. There his old father took care of him. Shortly afterward, Spanish soldiers came searching for the two who had escaped. Delagoa's father hid him in a canefield exposed to the inclement weather. Meantime the old father communicated with Consul-General Williams, and obtained a safe conduct to Havana, where Delagoa now lies under protection of the United States. THIRTY MILLIONS MISSING

ous Sum Gone and Nobod Knows Whence-An Effort Will Be Made to Sift the Mystery to the Bottom-Ex-President Maher

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE. CHICAGO, April 21.—A special to the Chronicle from Washington says that the Reorganization Committee of the Baltimore and Ohio Raliroad has struck a snag. The sum of $30,000,000 is missing and nobody is yet able to tell where it has gone. The committee cannot proceed any further in the direction of getting that railway sys-tem out of the hands of receivers and the courts until the mystery of the disappearance of this enormous amount from money is cleared up. The stateme is based upon the authority of one of the most prominent business men of Baltimore. He gof the information, he states, from one of the members of the Reorganization Committee who went to him for advice in the premises.

The committee, he alleges, discovered that, from 1888 to the date of the election of Cowan as president of the company, fully $20,000,000 of the Baltimore and Ohio securities were disposed of without reports of the transaction or transactions being made to the treasurer of the company. is based upon the authority of one of transactions being made to the treasurer of the company.

Upon learning of this state of affairs the members of the committee decided that the whole truth must be brought out, and they have determined to sift the matter to the bottom. It is stated that no one who is cognizant of the committee's view of the matter believes that ex-President Maher profited to the extent of a dollar by what took place as the result of the deals made, or that he knew of what was going on. or that he knew of what was going on.

Despite reports to the effect that there is want of harmony between members of the New York Committee on Reorganization and the members of the Baltimore committee, it can be stated that a perfect understanding exists between the two committees, and that the determination has been reached between them that the Baltimore and Ohio system is too valuable a property to be allowed to become disintegrated, and that it must be kept intact at all hazards.

EXCLUSIVE ARBITRATION. Movement Against it on Poot the Windy City. (BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.)

CHICAGO, April 21.—A movement is on foot in this city for the purpose of snystallizing public opinion against an exclusive arbitration treaty with Great Britain. The movement is being vigorously pushed by many prominent citizens who desire that arbitration treaties shall be made with every nation, instead of Enghand alone. The following paper is being extesively circulated and already it has been signed by many jurists, bankers and journalists:

"The undersigned believe that treaties providing for arbitration of national controverses should exist between all nations, that for this country to make an exception in favor of Great Britain would indicate a regard for that power superior to what we feel for other communities, and would be in a sense a token of distrust and disrespect for nations with whom our relations have always been and are most friendly.

lations have always been and are most friendly.

"While we do not think that in the immediate present strikes or wars can be altogether prevented by agreements for arbitration, yet such "compacts would tend toward the coming of that time when nations shall have war no more and when the rights of all peoples or of all men shall be universally respected. We therefore are of the opinion that the government of the United States should offer to enter into theaties of arbitration with all nations, it should not limit its friendly and peaceable overtures to the Empire of Great Britain."

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE)

SONORA, April 21.—Col. Caleb Dorsey of Oakdale, a wealthy and prominent mine-owner and rancher, was shot and killed at the Dorsey mine. shot and killed at the Dorsey mine, eleven miles from Columbia, in this county, at 9 o'clock this morning by his mining partner, J. T. Newcomer, over a dispute that ensued upon Dorsey charging Newcomer with cleaning-up and misappropriating the amalgam without the colone's knowledge. The defendant will claim justifiable homicide. He alleges that during the wrangle Col. Dorsey attempted to draw his gun with the usual result of being too slow. The matter has created the most profound sensation, owing to the age and standing of both parties in this community. Both the gentlemen were between 60 and 70 years of age. Mr. Newcomer absolutely refused to talk until he consults counsel. He left the scene of the killing before his vic-tim expired and came to Sonora and surrendered himself to the Sheriff. There were no eye-witnesses to the affair. Col. Dorsey died before any one reached him. The preliminary exami-nation will be set tomorrow.

DR. BROWN SUSPENDED.

Such is the Report from Last Night's BRY Conference. (BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.)

OAKLAND, April 21 .- Rev. C. O. Brown is again fighting for his minis-terial excellence today before the Bay conference of Congregational churches. Brown was strongly arraigned by a number of ministers. Rev. Hatch, the minister of a Berkeley church, said at the council that he had stood by Brown and had held the council back from con-demning Brown too strongly. Now, however, he was thoroughly convinced of Brown's guilt of untruthfulness and improper conduct, and of his general worthiness to preach. Rev. Dr. Freeland of Oakland said that the man who pays blackmail changes the presumption in his case from innocence to guilt. Rev. Dr. Mc-Lean thought that Dr. Brown should not be allowed to preach, and Judge Haven moved that he be suspended from the ministry until such time as he cleared his character. A long dis-cussion followed on this. The ministers in overwhelming majority seem to be opposed to Brown, but the latter has be opposed to Brown but the latter has some friends who are working for him. Rev. Philip Coombe said the minis-ters were trying to set aside their own verdict given through the council be-cause Dr. Brown had not received the verdict in the proper spirit. Brown will make a strong plea in his own behalf. When Deacon Brown took the plat-form he said that public sentiment must not interfere with the delibera-tions of the church, for in this case the public was not the judge. The council had found that there was not sufficient evidence to convict Dr. Brown, and he wanted to know how a conviction was to be had now, when there was no new evidence.

verdict given through the council be evidence.

Dr. J. L. McLean followed in a severe arraignment of the accused pastor. He said that he could deliver himself of all he had to say in twelve minutes or in thirty minutes. The conference granted it to him, and gave Dr. Brown unlimited time in which to speak. Dr. McLean said:

"I went into the council, of which is the base of the speak."

"I went into the council, of which I had the honor to be the moderator, "I went into the council, of which I had the honor to be the moderator, with the thought that Dr. Brown would be acquitted of the charges against him. As the trial went on a sickening feeling crept into my heart, and as the evidence continued it grew and grew and grew, until it seemed coiled about my heart like some black and damning serpent. The proceedings today are a logical sequel of the work of the council. That council was not called to judge of the innocence or gulit of Dr. Brown. It was formed to inquire into the charges and to report to the church. We found that the grosser charges were not substantiated by the evidence. Nor were they disproved by the evidence. There were many doubts generated there; not by our actions, but by the evidence of Dr. Brown, and by the disappearance of the witness who could have thrown considerable light on the subjects. The findings of the council left three grave doubts. The disappearance of Mrs. Tunnell certainly looked as if it had been connived at in the house of Dr. Brown. We gave him the benefit of every doubt and extended the mantle of charity as far as possible.

"The findings of the council have been

him the benefit of every doubt and extended the mantle of charity as far as possible.

"The findings of the council have been before the public for a month. They leave a grave doubt of suspicion on Dr. Brown and that is what was intended. The members of the council said that doubt overhung their minds regarding the payment of money to Mrs. Davidson. When an entirely discredited woman went to him and demanded thousands of dollars from him he could not give it, but when she returned as the harbinger of the glad news that the other woman would remain silent for $500 the money was quickly forthcoming, to obtain evidence, so Dr. Brown said.

"Again he sent money to Mrs. Tunnell when he could ill afford it. He sent her $35 in all. Did not this look as if there were something that he was afraid would come to the light of day? The council gave him the benefit of the doubt, mixed with charity. The ministers extended too much mercy. Their findings were garnished with too many pearls and the pearls were thrown where it has been said pearls should never be thrown. The thanks we received for our work has been characteristic in this respect.

"The suspension of Dr. Brown would be a withdrawal of our confidence in him, but it would be right and not unusual in such a case. It is a sad thing to see a man's career so checked, but all this business has been very painful. While this condemnation is very severe it is no more severe than the findings of the council warrant."

Dr. L. L. Worts almost created a sensation. He said that he did not know whether or not Dr. Brown was guilty, but that he was ready to extend to him his hand and help him prove his innocence if he asserted it. Dr. Worts continued, as he picked up the Bible: "Here is the book of Revelation. If Dr. Brown is an innocent man, let him step on this platform and plac-, ing his hand on this holy book, lift the other to heaven and tell us he is inno-cent. I will believe him, and I will extend to him my right hand in a clasp of brotherly-love. I am sure we all extend to him my right hand in a clasp of brotherly-love. I am sure we all will."

Every eye was turned in the direction of the accused pastor, but not a muscle of his face changed to show what his feelings were. It was a trying ordeal for him, but the suspense lasted only a moment, and then the speaker went on as follows: "If Dr. Brown has made a mistake, let him confess it, and I am sure he will be forgiven. His brothers will pick him up and help him into the right path once more."

One or two speakers followed and a recess was then taken until 7:30 o'clock in the evening. At the evening session, after considerable discussion, Dr. Brown took the stand and made an eloquent plea. He said:

"We are nearing the close of a remarkable debate, the issues of which, I would have you remember in the solemnity of this hour, are life and death. We hold divided opinions on matters. I am not here to impugn the motive of any brothers whose voices have been raised on this platform, but I have wondered if some of them, had they been in my place, would have liked me to speak as they have done. I shall take up the findings of the council, and then will take up the resolution.

"The utmost that this conference can do is to leave the verdict where the council left it, and to leave to the curative effect of time to heal up the bruises it has created. I fail to see the propriety of my brother from the Plymouth Church coming here now to try and induce this Bay conference to find me guilty, which he failed to do when closeted in the council. When you tonight have cast your vote, whether you condemn or acquit, you will have blotted out the distinction between closeted in the council. When you tonight have cast your vote, whether you condemn or acquit, you will have established a precedent unheard of in our church. The council has always been a court of final appeal, and it was never intended to establish a permanent judicatory.

"Had the members of that council thought me guilty, they should not "Had the members of that counc

"Had the members of that council thought me guilty, they should not have clothed their verdict in such ambiguous language, that the entire secular press of California interpreted it to mean just the opposite. The framers of that verdict knew the value of words, and they knew how to juggle with language. If they did not mean an acquittal, why did they add the hope and solemnize it by the sweetness of prayer—the hope that my future will be more fruitful than my past? What future? A lawyer's office? No; they meant in the ministry, or this was cruel sarcasm. "The burden of the accusations against me this afternoon tended to show that I had connived at the disappearance of Mrs. Tunnell. The greatest evidence in support of this charge was the fact that I had sent a little money to Mrs. Tunnell. Why should I not? She was the closest friend of my most important witness, and it was only natural that I should send her money. They have made a mountain out of a molehill. The evidence against me is hearsay—the worst kind of evidence. It was said that I had son from house to house to warn witnesses against me not to appear. This has been urged upon me this afternoon. Is there one man here who can cite one instance where I attempted to intimidate a witness?"

The pastor waited for a reply, and an oppressive stillness pervaded the church until Dr. Flawth arose and said to Dr. Brown:

"Did you not go to the house of Mrs. French and here wand read the contract."

The pastor waited for a reply, and an oppressive stillness pervaded the church until Dr. Flawth arose and said to Dr. Brown:
"Did you not go to the house of Mrs. French and beg and plead with her not to appear against you, and when she refused to remain away, did you not then threaten her?"

"I do not remember having ever said anything but the kindliest words to Mrs. French," Dr. Brown answered. "I went to see her on the morning she appeared, to talk with her over her evidence, and I did tell her to remember the importance of the case, and to be careful in what she said. That was all. A few more words and I have done. My adversaries have had nothing good to say about me this aftersnoon. Have I done nothing that is good in the years I have been among you? I could take you south of Market street and show you where I have sat by the side of the sick and dying. I have given my money in charity. All this you could have found, Deacon Williams, had you looked for it, instead of hunting for lodging-houses," the pastor continued. "Oh, might not some reference have been made to these works? Surely I deserved some little recognition."

Dr. Brown closed his appeal as follows: "I ask my brethren again that something more in the nature of testimony be adduced before I am condemned. I would rather have you bind my hands behind by back and have six men in the adjoining room ready to shoot, than have you pass this judgment against me. In the name of God, I say to you, dear brothers, don't shoot."

Il say to you, dear brothers, don't shoot."

The audience was then dismissed, and the resolution was adopted by a vote of 49 to 32. The moderator announced the suspension of Dr. Brown, and the conference adjourned. In a short time, Dr. and Mrs. Brown were surrounded by a number of sympathizers in the body of the church, who made loud promise to support Dr. Brown in the future. Nearly ull the delegates had, retired, when suddenly there was an exciting scene in one corner of the church. If the Rev. Dr. J. L. McLean, who was moderator at the late ecclesiastical council, was a little late in leaving the body of the church. He had taken a decided stand against Dr. Brown in the proceedings of the day. While the minister was talking to a friend, Valentine Brown, Dr. Brown's son, rushed up to Dr. McLean and in a very threatening manner, said: "How dare you vote against my father? I'll put a hole through you."

Dr. McLean waved his hand gently and replied: "Take this little boy away."

Young Brown was not to be silenced. He clenched his fist and, drawing back his arm, was about to strike Dr. McLean a fierce blow in the face. Just at that moment a powerful man grappled with young Brown and held his arm fast.

"There's Valley in trouble," said Mrs.

"There's Valley in trouble," said Mrs. "There's Valley in trouble," said Mrs. Brown.

Then there was a rush for the scene of the excitement. Dr. Brown, Valentine Brown, Mrs. Brown and a score of sympathizers surrounded Dr. McLean. They upbraided him. called him names and almost assaulted the aged pastor. The scene was intensely exciting, as Dr. McLean, standing in the midst of threats, raised his hand and said: "God will judge you all."

Valentine Brown tried to get at Dr. McLean again, and the preacher simply said: "Take the boy away." By this time Dr. Brown had gone forward and taken hold of his son to restrain him.

and taken hold of his son to restrain him.

"You're a coward," shouted Valentine Brown at Dr. McLean.

When the attempt was made to arsault Dr. McLean his friends were outside the church waiting for him, and did not know anything about the trouble until it was all over. Dr. McLean was being threatened and called a coward when a friend took him by the arm and led him out of the crowd.

"We will meet on judgment day," shouted one of the Brown contingent.

This ended the exciting scene. Dr. McLean was taken in charge by his friends and escorted home.

SAVED FOUR MEN.

Seaman Moulthropp of the Comme dore Perry a Hero.
(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.)

TOWNSEND (Wash.,) April revenue cutter Com Perry, which arrived here this evening from San Francisco, reports one of the roughest trips ever experienced. On Saturday a man was washed over-board and lost. His name was Alfred Saturday a man was washed overboard and lost. His name was Alfred Halfeli, a boatswain, and he was performing routine work forward when the sea came that carried him over. He was wearing heavy rubber boots and an oil coat, which carried him down quickly, and he was not seen afterward. A boat was lowered, manned by Gunner Johannsen and Seamen Jacobson, Thorp and Dykes, who spent nearly two hours in a search for the lost boatswain, without success. Then, when they attempted to board the ship, their boat was capsized and all four swept out into the sea,

It was impossible to lower another boat for them, and they were left to be abandoned, when suddenly Ordinary Seaman C. C. Moulthropp seized a line, sprang overboard and, by superhuman efforts, got the line around the bodies of all four men. They were thus saved, though all were insensible when hauled on deck. Moulthropp is a native of Springfield, Mass., and shipped on the Perry only two weeks ago.. He is deemed worthy of a medal by Capt. Smith, who will forward a recommendation to that effect to the Life-saving Board.

POLICEMEN AS "FENCES,"

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.) SAN FRANCISCO, April 21.—Police-man Thomas Rourke, whose name was unpleasantly connected with scandals growing out of the malodorous Lane case, and Special Officer William J.
McIntyre have been under investigation by their superiors, and tonight the commissioners will deal with them. The charge is that one or both of them shared, or was to share in the proceeds of a woman's crime, the robbery of Felix Bush by Hannah Langeridge, a dive waitress of the lowest type, who relieved her victim of $400 and a gold relieved her victim of $400 and a gold watch.

Suspicion has long been entertained by those in authority over the police force that patrolmen in certain districts were acting as the confederates and protectors of a class of women who made a living by robbing drunken men in the low-class lodging-houses.

So frequent and flagrant have these robberies become that they may almost be said to be of nightly occurrence. It is next to impossible to convict one of this class of women, and they ply their trade in districts where patrolmen are thickest. It is deemed probable that this investigation will develop some interesting facts.

Officer Rourke says he thinks he is being "jobbed." He attributes the charges to his activity in the Lane case.

The return of the Prosper in a disabled condition has set the people along the front talking about the lil-luck and misfortune that have accompanied the various expeditions to the northern gold fields. A number of the Prosper's passengers were surprised to learn of the tales of want, misery and privation told by the unfortunate passengers of the Excelsior, which arrived here last Saturday with seventeen men who had sought gold and found ice.

The damage to the Prosper will be repaired in a few days. In the mean time her cargo will be unloaded. She carries about twenty miners, who were going to Cook's Inlet in search of wealth. A number of them said last evening they would not venture on the mission again.

The Quality Proposition.

The Quality Proposition.

(Pacific Rural Press.) The Rural is always harping on the quality proposition, but readers must not weary of it, because it seems to be about the only weapon which will hold its edge these hard times. If course, all our readers know that it is only the best that is worth having or doing, when rates are low and times are hard, but there are many people who ought to be readers of the Rural, who do not seem to rise with the emergency and are still trying to market inferior products which went passably when products when high, but which do not pay for carriage in this end of the century.

You can hardly think of a single product of farm or dairy in which the public does not discriminate as it never did before, and in which there is a difference between the best and the fairly good. Take eggs; the difference between fine, large, clean, uniform eggs is now a very appreciable fraction of the whole value. At one time it was perhaps only a tenth of the value; now it may be a quarter. The same thing is true of butter, but perhaps not to quite such a large extent. Still, however, this difference may be the whole distinction between profit and loss. In dried fruits the same general facts hold, as has been so constantly urged by Rural writers. The cannel goods situation illustrates the same con goods situation illustrates the same condition, though here it carries a lesson for the canner rather than the grower, perhaps. Experts agree that the accumulated supplies of poor, cheap canned goods is excessive, while choice fruit in full syrup has gone where good and so what to go long ago. And so fruit in full syrup has gone where good goods ought to go long ago. And so we might go through the whole chapter of products. One has only to stroll through the markets and note the discrimination of purchasers, or read the market reports and note the figures and the adjectives to get an idea that only the best is worth offering for sale in these times.

As we said, Rural readers know all this and so far as they can are acting this, and so far as they can, are acting upon what they know, but he people who do not keep posted, and think anything will do well enough, and then wonder why they are running behindwonder why they are running behind-they are the ones who should be given a hint of the right kind. It will help even the best producers to remove the poor stuff from the trade; therefore, give the careless producer a hint when it can be done without offense, and tell him he can learn from the Rural Press what the profitable style in production is, and how to attain it.

Libelous, of Course.

Cotroit Free Press:) She was a Vassar graduate, and didn't know a little bit about housekeepings, when she married her last beau and settled down to domestic life. Her first order at the grocer's was a crusher, but that good man was used to all sorts of people and could interpret Vassar as easily as plain English.

"I want ten pounds of paralyzed sugar," she said, with a business air.

"Yes'm. Anything else?"

"Two cans of condemned milk."

"Yes'm." He set down "pulverized sugar." "condensed milk."

"Anything more, ma'am?"

"A bag of fresh sait—be sure that it is fresh."

"Yes'm. What next?"

"A support of descented codfish."

is fresh."
"Yes'm. What next?"
"A poung of desecrated codfish."
"Yes'm." He wrote glibly, "desiccated cod."
"Nothing more, ma'am? Here's some nice horseradish, just in."
"No." she sald, with a sad wabble of her flexible voice. "It would be of no use, as we don't keep a horse."
Then the grocer sat down upon a kit of mackerel and fanned himself with a patent washboard. Vassar had taken the cake.

CURE. on on on When you can use E'ectricity with ease and comfort, without the shock or the inconvenience of the old style battery, it becomes a pleasure to get cured by it. No one questions the curative power of Electricity, but there is only one way to apply it right. That is by Dr. Sanden's Electric Belt.

You put it on when you go to bed at night, fixing the regulator so that it gives a pleasant warming current without burning the skin, and you wear it all night without bother. You sleep sound and awake in the morning refreshed and vigorous, with every vital part teeming with animal magnetism. It is easy to cure by this method.

A great many people know nothing of Dr. anden's Electric Belt, because they have not taken the trouble to look it up. A little book, "Three Classes of Men," will interest you. It is free. Ask for it, or call and examine this pearance in Court—It Paid Jos Abbott to Attempt Escape—The End of a Sunday Escapade.

Several days ago Andrew Wilks, a young negro employed as bootblack in a North Main street barber-shop, went off and did not return for several went off and did not return for several hours. When he at last came back, he found another dusky youth wielding his brushes. Wilks grew exceedingly angry and began to call the barber names. He accused his late employer of owing him 40 cents, a debt the barber denied. The dispute ended in Wilks's arrest for dispute ended in Wilks's arrest for dispute the season Wilks's arrest for disturbing the peace. Yesterday Justice Owens fined him $10.
The trial of Bert Lowe for battering rival hackman went over until 10 o'clock next Monday morning. Harry Eaton yesterday attired himself in gorgeous habiliments, the costume of George Washington's time, and went forth to distribute hand bills advertising a costume place. His white wis, his little black mustache,his gay coat, bedecked with lace, and his black boots were all very picturesque, but that did not save him from being arrested by Officer Rico for violating the city ordinance which prohibits the passing of hand bills on the street. Eaton looked very much out of place as he sat in the Police Court, the one bright spot of color in the dingy place. Justice Morrison sentenced him to a fine of $1$, but suspended the sentence until after La Fiesta.

Ah Louie's trial for peddling without a license went over until this afternoon. and went forth to distribute hand bills

An Louies trial for peddling without a license went over until this afternoon.

Joe Abbott, a boy who was serving a thirty-days term in the chain-gang, attempted escape and was recaptured. Justice Morrison yesterday gave him a sentence of sixty days for that offence, but suspended the commitment in consideration of Abbott's youth. Abbott's original term is up today, so now he is a free man.

G. Gates was arrested several days ago at the instance of his landlord. Gates and Smith had been engaging in a lively cussing contest. The case was dismissed yesterday.

A. G. Bechtol and another expressman met on a street corner last Saturday and had a dispute as to the rightof-way. At last Bechtol got down from his wagon, whip in hand, to continue the quarrel, finally slashing his rival with the whip. Justice Owens yesterday fined the excitable Dutchman $5, but announced his belief that the other expressman was quite as guilty and ought also to be arrested and fined.

Justice Morrison tried W. A. Shepard yesterday for stealing two lawn-mowers. The Judge found the prisoner guilty as charged and sentenced him to thirty days in jail for one offense and $50 or fifty days for the other.

E. W. Fales was sentenced to $5 or five days for violating the hitching ordinance.

John Lorkas, a peanut peddler, paid

E. W. Fales was sentenced to $5 or dinance.

John Lofkas, a peanut peddler, paid a $2 fine for obstructing the sidewalk. James McCoy's second examination on a charge of picking a drunken man's pockets resulted in his discharge. It was found difficult to make out a case against him without the aid of the man who had been robbed, and he can be found nowhere.

Last Sunday J. E. O'Brien, an employé of the Herald, went out in company with J. T. Conley and a fallen woman named Carrie Johnson. The three unceremoniously entered a lodging-house and took possession of a room. They were arrested and locked up in the City Jall. Yesterday they were tried before Justice Morrison. O'Brien declared that if any one of the three was more to blame than the rest for the escanded it was he Justice. three was more to blame than the rest for the escapade, it was he. Justice Morrison accordingly imposed upon him a sentence of $10 or ten days. Conley got off with $5 or five days and Carrie Johnson received a ten-day floater.

An Interesting Model.

(Pittsburgh Dispatch:) George R. Allen, a model maker of Philadelphia, has recently completed a model of the Niagara power plant, which will be placed on exhibition at 'the coming electric exhibition to be held next month at New York city. It is intended to operate this model, if possible, with current supplied from the plant at Niagara, a distance of 500 miles. The model is built on a scale of one and one-half inches to the 100 feet, and is a literal reproduction of not only the power plant, but of the surrounding country, 197 buildings being reproduced. In this model the powerhouse, wheelpits, cross sections of the canal, turbine wheels and the tunnel are all before you. In this is found the An Interesting Model. house, wheelpits, cross sections of the canal, turbine wheels and the tunnel are all before you. In this is found the actuating thought that led to the construction of this truly wonderful plece of work. Day after day many visitors of the falls make eager inquiries as to the workings of the tunnel and its object. Some find this a difficult matter to explain, but here it is all before you. In this model is shown what can be seen in no other way, for it would be utterly impossible to take all the visitors down into the deep wheelpit to show them the working of the turbines, When in operation the water will flow down the penstocks upon the turbines, which will set in motion the turbine shaft to the dynamos that will generate the power. There is a sectional view of all this, showing the turbines, the pen-stocks and the shafts.

Rapid Telegraphing.

(Pittsburgh Dispatch:) With a view to ascertaining the highest speed at which telegraphic characters can be legibly recorded, P. B. Delany, in some recent experiments, succeeded in transmitting by his machine system 8000 words per minute, and obtained a plain reproduction of the signals by electrolysis on the chemically-prepared receiving tape. The circuit was an artificial one of 650 ohms, 2.95 microfarads, and the electromotive force was 115 volts. This is about the equivalent of an ordinary telegraph line of 100 miles in length, or, say, New York to Philadelphia. At this speed the perforated tape upon which the messages were composed passed through the transmitting machine at the rate of twenty-seven and a half feet per second, and the impulses comprising the letters traveled at the rate of 2500 per second, or 133 words, equal to six ordinary telegrams of twenty-two words each in a single second. At this rate the next few years must bring about great changes in methods of correspondence, and, in-evitably, a large portion of the $90,000,000 now annually expended on wheel transportation of the malls will be diverted to the telegraph. Why not? Rapid Telegraphing.

IT FETCHES one up very short to be seized with pleurisy, pneumonla, or any acute throat or lung affection. Dr. D. Jayne's Expectorant proves a handy help in such attacks, and is, bestides, a good old-fashioned remedy for all coughs and colds.

THE FIESTA "TIMES."

Look out for The Times during Fiesta week. Read the daily issues for full descriptions of the unique They will be graphically written, profusely illustrated, complete in every detail, and just what you want for the daily enlightenment and edification of friends at a distance. But perhaps you would prefer to wait till the conclusion of the carnival and get the whole splendid story in a regular issue? If so, you can secure it in connected narrative form, skillfully divided, subdivided, classified, revised, arranged and illustrated, in the special FIESTA NUMBER, which will be issued next Sunday. It will contain a surpassing description of what is destined to be one of the proudest events in the notable history of California's most notable and interesting city, and in no other way can you delight your friends trouble and expense.

As the Fiesta cannot, for obvious reasons, be described in advance of its occurence, this number of The imes will not be issued "early in the week," but at the close of it.

LA FIESTA DE LOS ANGELES.

It is scarcely necessary at this late day to enlarge upon the natural attractions of Southern California. Those attractions have been described so extensively, not only by our own writers but by enthusiastic visitors, that this section has become a favorite health and pleasure resort, not only for Americans but for many residents of foreign countries. Few who come here accuse us of having painted the picture too

At the same time, while nature has been so lavish with her charms, there has been something lacking in the way of entertainment for those who come to this section "on pleasure bent." For the individual who comes to South ern California broken down in health. seeking quiet, and repose, and pure air, there is nothing more to be asked but there is a large and rapidly-growing class of wealthy people in this country who make a practice of spending a portion of the year in some attractive section where they combine amusement with recuperation. For those people dwelling on the Atlantic Coast Europe is as near as California. and the voyage no more expensive. Consequently, in figuring up the rela tive attractions of Europe and Southern California, it has often been the case that the numerous and varied entertainments provided for visitors in the Old World have turned the scale, and have induced thousands to cross the Atlantic who might otherwise have been inclined to visit the shores of the

It was specially with the view of providing an excuse for such people to come this way that the Los Angeles fiesta was inaugurated three years ago. We cannot claim it as altogether original idea, for New Orleans, and St. Louis, and Memphis had their annual celebrations long before, and Santa Barbara was ahead of us in Southern California with her beautiful flower festival, from which we have gathered many good suggestions. At the same time, Los Angeles has already suc ed in giving its celebration an individuality of its own, which will increase from year to year, until it be-comes as celebrated throughout the rld as the flower carnival of Nice, the Mardi Gras, or the Veiled Prophet

Southern California is a new section, thinly settled and distant from the great centers of population, so that it ild not be fair for visitors to compare our festival with those of Nice, o year, which is a good sign. The fiesta of this year will be as far ahead of that of 1895 as that celebration was of roads to ask favors of Mr. Huntington.

Entered at the Los Angeles Postoffice for transmission as second-class mail matter the first flesta. Citizens of all classes have come to the front nobly with assistance, financially and otherwise, and the hard work that has been done by the public-spirited citizens who have taken charge of the affair is evidently appreciated. It is by no means an easy task to organize and carry out a great entertainment of this descrip tion without treading upon somebody's corns, but in this case the kickers are few and far between. It is, moreover, pleasant to note that the spirit of narrow jealousy which cropped out occasionally last year and the year before in outside towns is almost entirely lacking. With scarcely ar exception the cities and towns of Southern California are standing in with the Los Angeles festival in hearty goodwill, and will send large delegations to the city. This is as it should be. The advertising received by Los Angeles as the commercial metropolis of Southern California through the flesta cannot fail to be of vast benefit to every section between Santa Barbara and San Diego. Not only this, but the idea is one that will spread until, as The Times has said, every city and town of any consequence in the southern counties will have its own feast of fruit or flowers, to aid in the success of which Angelenos will do everything in their power.

Apart from these material views of the question, which we Americans are somewhat too apt to bring to the front on all occasions, a little break in the monotony of business life is an excellent thing, once in a while, in this country, where we are in the habit of trying to crowd the work of a busy lifetime into a dozen years. Let us all make up our minds to enjoy ourselves this week and make our visitors do the same

Viva La Fiesta de Los Angeles! THE QUESTION AT ISSUE.

The Evening Espee says:

"The question that interests 99 per cent. of this community is not whether enator Jones or Mr. Patton will get the most personal benefit from the results of this controversy—for our part we shall be glad to see both of them make on their real estate—but what will be the best policy for this section, for this town, for everybody. In a word, which policy is the more likely to prove the greatest good to the greatest num-

For once the Southern Pacific organ has told the facts of the case correctly in regard to the harbor matter. What will be the best policy for this section, for this town, for everybody? Which policy is more likely to prove the great-st good to the greatest number? Does the Evening Espee really be lieve that a policy which would give a single railroad corporation the right to dictate its terms on all foreign comgeles would be the best policy for everybody? Would the "greatest good to the noring the recommendations of the United States engineers, by ignoring the wishes of the people, and making a present to the Southern Pacific Company of $3,000,000 of the people's money in order that they may use it as afore

The Evening Espee would better keep on talking twaddle about "no harbor. and "enemies of the people," forth. As soon as it tries to make a sen sible statement on the harbor question it immediately puts its foot in it. It can carcely help doing so, because, as The Times has frequently stated, there is really only one side to this question.

THE TIMES CIRCULATION.

The Times is authorized by the pub lishers of the American Newspaper Directory to print the following:

"Only three other daily papers in California have credit for so large a regular issue as is accorded to the LOS ANGELES TIMES, and the pub lishers of the American Newspaper Directory will guarantee the aceuracy of the circulation rating accorded to this paper by a reward of One Hundred Dollars, payable to the first person who successfully assails it."

A correspondent writing from Santa Monica calls attention to the charges made by the Southern Pacific Company on freight to Mr. Huntington's wharf. Our correspondent states that Santa Monica merchants are charged 5 cents per hundred pounds for hauling merchandise in less than carload lots from the wharf to Santa Monica, while the same class of merchandise is hauled to Los Angeles, eighteen miles further, for wharf the rate is 45 cents in carload lots New Orleans, or St. Louis, but as a be- while from the Soldiers' Home, which ginning we believe our friends who accept our hospitality this week will $1, or 55 cents per ton more. M'KINLEY AND THE A.P.A.

Maj. McKinley has wisely refrained from pledging himself to any faction or candidate, he stands for all the people If he is elected to the office of Chief Executive, he will enter upon the dutie of that office unhampered by any pledges save those made to his country to uphold her Constitution and laws and to the Republican party to suppor the principles it holds dear.

Maj. McKinley is too great a man to bind himself by other pledges than these. His statesmanship is too broad to be circumscribed by the bargaining schemes of mere politicians and self-

The alleged opposition of the A.P.A to Maj. McKinley—the extent of which a question of doubt-appears to be based chiefly upon the refusal of him self and those who are authorized t peak for him, to make pledges to the representatives of that organization in onsistent with his and their allegiand to the Republican party. Such grounds of opposition are frivolous and insufficient. If the A.P.A. leaders can bring no other charge than this against Maj McKinley, they would better keep silence, for they cannot carry their mem bership with them on such a wrong journey.

As a matter of simple fact, neither the A.P.A. nor any other American organ zation has legitimate ground for oppoing Maj. McKinley. His whole life is known to his countrymen, and it is record whose every page is spotles Neither his personal integrity nor his political sincerity are open to question His patriotism is likewise beyond dis pute. Even his political foes conced all that is here claimed in his behalf.

The A.P.A. assumes, and rightly s to place American 'citizenship, in its truest and highest sense, upon a pedes tal as the type and symbol of its lofties ideals and its highest aspirations. Yet, f report be true-which we do not yet believe-it has selected one of the fore most citizens, one of the purest patriots of this republic, as the target for its concentrated opposition, upon the mos trivial of pretexts. It seems incredible hat so suicidal a course of action could have been entered upon by the respon sible representatives of an order which lays claim to Americanism as one of its cardinal principles.

advised counsels into entering upon a formal fight against McKinley, the result will be the speedy disintegration of the order. Men of intelligence and of independent thought will not submit to be robbed of their civil rights as American citizens upon trivial pretexts to suit the whims of those who assume the custodianship of their consciences.

The A.P.A. is powerless to defeat Maj. McKinley, or to injure his candidacy in any material respect. It can commit hari-kari, however, but we do not believe that the level-headed men in its ranks, the country over, will suffer it to do so. Certainly the order in California, so far as it has acted in this matter, has not taken a hostile position toward Maj. McKinley. San Diego Orange and Riverside counties are striking examples to the contrary.

As The Times has predicted would be the case, Congressmen and Senators at Washington have once more begun to talk about the conflict of opinion between Los Angeles people in regard to the location of a harbon site, giving such conflict as a reason why they will perhaps not be able to let us have anything at all for a harbon this year. It is the same old story. constantly reiterate the fact that, in spite of all the hullabaloo that is kept up by the Huntington hired claque, there is practically only one sentiment on the subject here. This is a-portion of Collis P. Huntington's scho of sentiment in Los Angeles, until he has worn us out. Maybe Mr. Huntinggreatest number" be subserved by ig- ton will discover that there is a difference between the people of Northern and Southern California, when it comes to making a legitimate fight against his corporation.

> It is no wonder that Los Angeles mer chants are indignant at the manner in which the City Council dickers with the hitching ordinance. One only has to glance at the block on Broadway beween First and Second to see what a nuisance is created by the present con dition of affairs. There may be seen at almost any hour of the day, four or five big furniture vans drawn up by the curb, using the street as a stable yard, while business men are unable to get to their offices with their teams. The wners of wagons and hacks may have big pull with the Council, but the merchants will know how to get even this fall with a Council that refuses to pass so necessary an ordinance, apparently because the members are afraid to do so

While the "favorite sons" will derive most of their strength in the Republican National Convention from their own States, McKinley's strength will come from the whole country. Only 18 per cent. of the votes assured to him on the first ballot are from territory local to him, while 82 per cent. will come from outside territory. No candidate save McKinley has secured a single vote in the local territory of any other can-

According to James H. Eckels, Comp roller of the Currency, Mr. Cleveland feels that there is no reason why he should be unwilling to enter another political campaign." Mr. Eckels stands pretty close to the throne, and the above utterance may therefore be regarded as semi-official. Mr. Cleveland may possibly be a candidate, but we shall nevertheless have less than "one year more of Grover."

No Republican Presidential candidate xcepting Maj. McKinley, has any strength worth mentioning in any Republican State outside of his own local territory. Reed has most of the New England States, all of which are but little larger than an average-sized West-last for many years to come."

ern State. Morton and Quay cannot command the full strength of their own States. Allison has but a slight fol-lowing outside of Iowa, and Cullom has practically no following. McKinley, on the other hand, will receive not only the solid vote of his own State, but the solid votes of many other States, besides scattering votes from nearly every State in the Union. McKinley is obviously stronger than any possible com-bination that can be made against him.

A curious and annoying blunder was made by a writer in The Times of yesterday, whose paragraph, as it happened, was printed without having passed the editorial scrutiny. The editorial scrutiny. The located our well-known citizen and long-time resident, Dr. J. P. Widney, and also his brother, Rev. S. A. Widney, as residents of San Pedro. They are both Angelenos.

The Republican party, as represented in its national convention, is entirely competent to formulate the platform for the national campaign. Lack of confidence in the wisdom of the Republican party in this regard is tantamount to disloyalty to the party. On the finanrially from established traditions.

If the A.P.A. enthusiasts attempt to put Wm. S. Linton forward as the "favorite son" of Michigan, he will not be in it even with Cullom of Illinois Michigan Republicans want William McKinley for President, in the proportion of about 99 to 1 for any other can-

The Evening Espee is evidently looking for a soft spot to fall in the San Pedro harbor. The soil there is softer than at Mr. Huntington's site, where it is a pretty hard tumble from those high bluffs.

Rhode Island Democrats are for William C. Whitney for President, "first, last, and all the time." After having received the indorsement of Rhode Island, can the Whitney boom be stopped?

It is to be hoped that Uncle Collis did the handsome thing by the members of the City Council and the Mayor, as worthies are not likely to get anything more from the people.

The so-called reforms which Spain proposes to put into effect in Cuba are not acceptable to the insurgents. There If the order at large be led by ill- is altogether too large a string tied to

AT THE PLAYHOUSES.

LOS ANGELES THEATER. Another of John J. McNally's dizzy farce-com-edies, "The Night Clerk," has appeared and has apparently conquered, if one may juige by its reception, but the man or woman who saw last night's man or woman who saw last night's performance at the Los Angeles Theater would probably find it mighty difficult to say in the calmer moments of this morning what all the laugnter and applause was about. And yet "The Night Clerk," by Mr. McNally, (if there is any such person as Mr. McNally any, where on the face of the earth,) is no more piotess and purposeless than no more piotess and purposeless than is any such person as Mr. McNally any where on the face of the earth,) is no more plotess and purposeless than were its various predecessors, which came to us bearing the McNally brand. The people who do "The Night Clerk" save it, as the people saved this author's other alleged plays, and as many another better play has been secured against total failure. Peter Dailey is a clever comedian in his off-hand way. The people who go to see him know what to expect in the way of "joshing," and they are never disappointed. Mr. Dailey is always himself and no one else, and he has a mative ability which rises superior to even a McNally "play." Jennie Yeamans has done many better things than she did last night, although it is due to her to say that she far outclasses McNally, the playwright. She sings dittles with cleverness, and as a foil for Dailey's fooling, she is a pleasing beauty-spot in a performance of "The Night Clerk."

Gertrude Fort sang "Ben Holt," but the musical director made havec of her song with his strident and unmusical accompaniment on the violin. As an obligato it was a failure. The young lady has a contraito voice of good quality and fine volume, and her rendering of the old ballad was much retter than many that have preceded it in the months past since "Trilby" gave it vogue. I talked with the Lieutenant-Governor of one of the principal Eastern States. He said that if Cleveland was nominated it would be a direct concession to the gold bugs and that would be the principal cause of his certain defeat. This gentleman said he was a loyal Democrat; he had been elected to his present high office two terms in succession, and was assured by his party that he could have the nomination for Governor if he wanted it, but that he saw no possible chance for a Democrat to be elected to any prominent office in that State, and that he did not propose wasting his time, energy and money in a fruitless contest. He also said that his views were shared by other leaders of the party, but they would not so openly express themselves.

(Chicago Post:) It is pretty genrally admitted that if McKinley gets in instructed delegation-at-large from illinois his nomination at St. Louis or the first ballot is practically assured This will be settled at Springfield the 29th proximo. Yesterday the Evenin Post commented on the claims of th Cullom leaders in this State, which gave McKinley 446 instructed delegates out of a total of 1335, Cullom 42 in-structed delegates and 610 uninstructed delegates and 237 delegates yet to be seemed that McKinley had about reached a place where he had a cer-tainty on the Springfield convention. So long as the present tarifremains in operation this state of thing will continue. The reason for it is perfectly obvious to every American voteingifted with plain common-sense.

(New York Tribune:) The Tribun this morning (April 15) prints the striking results of a canvass of Republican opinion in Pennsylvania. Among the large number of leading men all over the State who were asked to give their preferences for the party's candidate for the Presidency, more than half declared themselves for McKinley. This cannot be regarded as other than highly significant of the trend of the party's sentiment in the Keystone State; but it is not a matter that will occasion the least surprise. Pennsylvania is one of the greatest manufacturing States of the Union. Her industrial interests arevast and of the greatest diversity. That the men who have founded and developed those interests should avow their preference for the foremost exponent of protection to American industries and a stanch believer in sound money is almost a matter of course. The Tribune's canvass was made absolutely without bias. Leading Republicans from one end of the State to the other were asked for their views with mo knowledge of what the response- would be, and the answers are printed exactly as they were received. These collected views are as accurate an index of the will of the party's rank and file in Pennsylvania as could be obtained short of 1 general election. There is material here for the politicians to reflect upon. (The table shows that, out of 723 Republicans who made public expression of their views, 366 declared McKinley to be their first choice, while he is the second choice of 178 others.) this morning (April 15) prints the striking results of a canvass of Repub (April 15) prints the publican conventions and reading many impartial newspapers of various political faiths, the conclusion is irresistible that William McKinley is destined to be the Republican candidate for President. Every indication points to this fact, and it is well to serve notice on those who oppose his nomination in advance that no amount of wirepuling, chicanery, knavery or trickery will accomplish his defeat, because it is well known that the Republican masses, minus the heelers and bosses, want William McKinley, and no one else, to be the Republican Presidential candidate this time. The Republican masses are in no frame of mind to be trified with. They have had a sufficiency of Clevelandism, and certainly of the 'hold-up' gang of bosses who have been trying to ruin the Republican party for their own selfishness and personal aggrandizement. This clique of vampire politicalns know that if McKinley is nominated and elected, their political igi is up, for he will not allow any one to use him for the purpose of strengthening bosses.

He would never allow the American flag to be hauled down and be trampled upon as Grover Cleveland did. His administration would be for the liquidation of debts, and not the creation of debts, it would not sail around like a ship-without a compass. It would be a positive one which would not only command and demand the respect of all the people of this nation, but of the whole world. He would never issue war manifestoes one day as a 'bluff' and the next day almost before the sun rose get on his knees so to speak, and beg Congress to do something that the country will not only be proud of its choice for President, but the people, before his term of office has half expired, will be using every effort to get him to be their President again. The Chicago Inter Ocean says:

"The treasury deficit for the first eleven days of this month is $6,084,803. This, as our Washington correspondent observes, is at the rate of $608,480 for each working day of the year; counting eight hours to each day, and eight hours make a business day at Washington, it is at the rate of $76,000 an hour, and over $1200 a minute. This comes of Democratic tariff tinkering, of Democratic currency tinkering, of Democratic appropriation making, and of all the combined incompetency to administer concerning the finance and trade of the country. The first twenty trade of the country. The first twenty months of operation of the McKinley tariff resulted in a surplus of $20,287,462 or the national treasury. twenty months of the operation of the Wilson tariff has resulted in a deficit of $82,248,794. The Democrats denounced wilson tarin has resulted in a delicit first as the counced the surplus as 'infamous,' though it is a matter of common-sense that a surplus of $20,000,000 is no more than a safeguard against emergencies. But if a surplus of $20,000,000 be 'infamous,' what adjective is fit to qualify a deficit of $82,000,000? When there was a surplus in nearly every house. The building associations and the savings banks were receiving vast deposits of accumulations from the wage fund, merchants were enlarging their stores, manufacturers were enlarging their mills, wages were going up, and all manufactured things that wages buy were coming down. Strikes for higher wages, were too common, but strikes against lower wages were unknown.

"The Democrats have changed all this. Turn them out."

A Baltimore special to the Cleveland World says:

"Senator-elect Wellington has given up all hope of electing Reed delegates. Said he, yesterday: While our delegates to St. Louis will be ready to vote and act in such a way as will be for the best interests of the Republican party in Maryland, the probabilities are that all the votes from this State will be for McKinley. The sentiment of the Republicans here is undoubtedly strongly favorable to McKinley's nomination, although all the other leading candidates are popular with our people. Even Senator Quay of Pennsylvania, although he is not personally favorable to McKinley's North and the land of t A Baltimore special to the Cleveland is not personally favorable to McKin-ley, is, I believe, preparing to withdraw his opposition to the Ohio candidate and Join in what seems to be an upris-ing of the people in favor of the great advocate of protection, so that I shall not be in the least surprised to see Mr. Quay in the McKinley ranks before long."

It Matters Not. (New York Tribune:) Referring to the reports that Quay had given up the fight against McKinley, the Utica Press pertinently observes: "It practically matters not at all whether Quay or Platt, one or both, are pleased or displeased. They may make some trouble at St. Louis, but can scarcely carry their point. Mr. Platt's ambition to be Secretary of the Treasury will fail of realization, and unless all signs fail, the only office he will have in 1897 is that sometimes facetiously referred to as the Secretary of the Exterior. One would suppose that he would learn some valuable lessons these days, and ultimately reach the conclusion that while politicians are very powerful, they cannot prevail against the people. Quay reads the signs of the times quicker and better, and is really a more adroit politician, says and admits facts as they exist. He recognizes that the fight against McKinley is hopeless:" Sweeping All Before It.

Sweeping All Before It.

(Philadelphia Press.) Whether we are for McKinley or against him, this tremendous popular sweep cannot be denied or ignored. It is a visible, tangible fact, which must be recognized as a fact, whether men will bear or whether they will forbear. It isn't manufactured; it isn't a mirage; it isn't a machine; it isn't the product of a boss or boodle; it is a great surging groundswell which is moving onward with well-nigh irresistible force. We many or may not shut our eyes to it, but it goes on. As soon as Harrison refuses, it selzes and sweeps Indiana. It carries Wisconsin and Michigan. It enters Minnesota and leaves Davis stranded. It rushes into Illinois and leaves Cullom high and dry. It surprises South Dakota and brings poor Pettigrew on his marrow bones to McKinley and honest money. It breaks in on New Hampshire and makes our lean friend Chandler resemble the fat Falstaff in the one particular of being not only witty himself, but the occasion of jest-of everlasting jest, we now suspect—in others. It bursts forth in Pennsylvania and sweeps every county where there is a test. It breaks loose in New York and very nearly upsets the State convention. It astonishes the McKinley people themselves by overturning even Virginia, the pocket borough of the machine. And so it sweeps on. His Policy on Trial.

His Policy on Trial.

(New York Commercial Advertiser:)
Whenever the administration has had a chance to make a blunder it has made it. On the tariff, finance and foreign affairs its record has been persistently un-American, and consistently foolish. This record makes Mr. Cleveland the "logical candidate" of his party. The conditions which exist are his. He created them. He is responsible for them more than any other living man. They will form the main issues of the campaign. As their originator and defender, the President should give the people an opportunity to register their opinion of his administration at the ballot-box. The Cleveland "policy" must be the Democratic platform. Who can stand on that platform so well as Mr. Cleveland?

Cream of tartar costs 25 cents a pound, but it is a fruit product and perfectly wholesome.

Cleveland's baking powder is made of pure cream of tartar; no alum, no ammonia, no tartaric acid, no phosphate, no adulteration of any sort.

That's why Cleveland's costs more to make than others; but it is worth more: it is wholesome and makes wholesome food.

If you don't think Los Angeles is going to the bow-wows just drop into the dog-show today.

Rain this week would be acceptable enough to the farmers, but it would play Old Harry with the gran festivi-dad of Los Angeles. Most of us can as well wait for rain until next week as Santa Ana voters will soon have an opportunity to express their preference with respect to city lighting. The exof other cities has been favor able to municipal ownership, and usually better lighting at less expense has been secured when corporate inhas been secured when corporate in-terests have been wholly eliminated.

Right royal was the entertainment accorded to the hotel men at San Diego and Coronado. Throughout Southern California they have been wined and dined, and yet another proof of Pacific Coast hospitality has been established. By such means the streams of immlgration are kept up and the fame of this sunlit land spread abroad,

It will indeed be a pity if no com-promise can be made in that San Bar-nerdino case, where property valued at $50,000 was lost by the foreclosure of a $2300 mortgage. Whatever the legal right of the judgment creditor to hold the property, an ordinary sense of jus-tice should obtain in such a case. Strict tairness will not always permit close technical interpretation of the law.

Ulber, the Christian Science crank, has gone to jail, having neither the ability nor the disposition to pay the fine inflicted upon him on account of his treatment of diphtheria by prayer. He would doubtless be more suitably incarcerated in an insane asylum. Meantime, having killed off one son by his folly, the rest of the family is left to shift for itself while he pays the pen-alty of his fanaticism behind the bars. This is one instance where the innocent must suffer with the guilty, and to what end? A fool is a fool, wher-ever placed, and Ulber in jail is probably as closely wedded to Christian Science as at home. If his services are to be withdrawn from his family, he ought to be where he could receive treatment for mental derangement rather than punishment for the performance of what he thinks was his re-

M'KINLEY AT HOME.

Direct Testimony as to His Attitude, Personality and Principles.

SAN DIEGO (Cal.,) April 20, 1896.—
(To the Editor of The Times.) I appreciate your efforts in behalf of Ohio's statesman — McKinley—and believing you desire to refute any false reports about him, I append the following:

Some of the A.P.A. enemies of the Republican party in this city and elsewhere delight to publish and elsewhere delight to publish and

Republican party in this city and else-where delight to publish and send 'broadcast 'anything that will tend to drive away votes from the one man who is the great favorite among the people. Desiring to know the truth about these publications, I wrote to an eld Ohlo friend, Judge Ira Graham of Pomeroy, O., and he sends me the following reply:

Member San Diego Republican County

Member San Diego Republican County Committee.

POMEROY (O...) April 13, 1896.

S. H. Olmstcad, San Diego, Cal.—Dear Sir. In reply to your kind letter containing slanderous clippings about McKinley, I will say:

When I was chairman of the Republican Executive Committee of our county in 1894, McKinley came to our town and staid over Sunday, and for several days while holding meetings in our vicinity made this place his headquarters. McKinley is a member of the Methodist church, and with myself attended that church while here, taking a front seat and taking part in the devotions of said church.

There is no talk of any desertion of McKinley. Every Ohio delegate is pledged to him. There is an A.P.A. council of over two hundred members in this town, and all are for McKinley, and I have never heard any complaint here about Catholics being appointed to office. In his speech at Pomeroy in 1894 I heard him say that he was in favor of restricting immigration so as to exclude all criminals and paupers. The article you sent me is false in nearly every particular. It is simply "balderdash" of the lowest political order, bearing the earmarks of being inspired by some Democratic politician. I have known McKinley intimately for ten years. All bear testimony to his loyalty and patriotism. His speeches are filled with Americanism for the benefit of Americans. His wife is an invalid and every day while here Maj. McKinley wrote a letter, taking the time to do so while callers by the dozen waited.

McKinley is a model husband, an exemplary citizen, a loyal soldier, a great statesman and a true patriot who has the good of his country at heart. He will make a noble President, worthy of the seat once occupied by Garfield, Grant and Lincoin, and it is now assured that he will, in the common slang phrase, "get there with both feet."

You must expect other falsehoods, and be prepared to refute them.

Yours truly. IRA GRAHAM.

Owing to the large and growing business in the various departments of the Mt. Lowe Railway, and the necessity of dividing the duties among more parties directly interested, a bond and stock interest to the extent of $50,000 will be soid to one or two parties, preferably those who could give one or more of the departments personal attention. LEWITH'S TRANSGRESSION | When

CLERK ACCUSED OF STEALING FROM HIS EMPLOYERS.

Carried Off All Sorts of Merchandise Unperceived—Lewith's Bad Record in Denver—Champagne Tastes and Beer Income.

It is but a few days ago that a trusted clerk was arrested for purloin-ing from his employer. Yesterday an-other man was arrested under just the same circumstances.

About a year ago J. L. Lewitt, a man of about 38 years, came to Los Angeles from Denver. He secured work Angeles from Denver. He secured work in the People's Store and was appointed head of the dress goods department. He seemed to know his business well and became a trusted cierk. At his instance, on one pretext or another, all the cierks in the department who had been there long were discharged.

At his instance, on one pretext or another, all the clerks in the department who had been there long were discharged.

One of the discharged employés naturally cherished ill-feeling against the man. One day, in conversation with a man recently from Denver, he discovered that Lewith had an unenviable record there. The discharged employés went to the Hamburgers, the proprietors, and told them what he had learned. The result was that the Messrs. Hamburger wrote to Daniels & Fisher, the Denver dry goods firm for which Lewith formerly worked.

The reply received to the letter of inquiry was startling. It said that Lewith had been detected in a long-continued course of purloining from his employers. He was tried on a misdemeanor charge. After that experience, Lewith found the Denver climate unsuited to his delicate health, and went to California. The letter closed with the wish that the Hamburgers might have no such experience with Lewith as Daniels & Fisher had.

By this time the Messrs. Hamburger had begun to suspect Lewith of dishonesty. They put the case in the hands of the police, and Detectives Auble and Hawley were detailed to work it up. Monday they arrested Lewith at the store and took him to his home at No. 130 North Hope street. There, neatly packed away in trunks, boxes, etc., they found between $500 and $600 worth of merchandise. It was of great variety, including dress goods, silk, beaded trimmings, lace, jet points, velvet, crellons, crépe, gloves and a hundred other things.

Lewith will be arraigned before Justice Morrison at 9 o'clock Thursday morning, on a charge of grand larceny. The thief has a wife and two daughters, the latter aged 11 and 9 respectively. Lewith has been in Los Angeles for a year, his family for not more than three months. The detectives say that Lewith has expensive tastes, in order to gratify which he began to steal. It is easy to see how he could thrust a pair of gloves or a roll of ribbon into his pockets, but how the man could have unperceived carried off a bolt of cloth thr n Important Manufacturing Industry Located in This City—Very Flattering Prospects for Its Promoters—Exhibitions During La Fiesta.

The rapid growth of the city of Los Angeles s a constant source of surprise to the inhab-tants of other portions of the country. And very few of our own citizens realize the umber of new industries which are being es number of new industries which are being established and developed in our midst.

As the need arises, new enterprises start up from time to time, often without much effort to attract the notice of the public, which is, after a time, surpleed to learn that the unheralded infant industry has grown to sturdy and large proportions. Knowing its advantages, it is a surprise that some manufacturers have not sooner selected Los Angeles as the location for organ-building, yet there are reasons why such a business can be conducted here successfully.

About a year and a half ago, two young men, M. M. Harris and H. C. Fletcher, commenced to build organs here, and they have succeeded, by manufacturing high-grade instruments, in building up a trade which is which is continuous, in the field of organ anufacture, the most important policy and the second of the country, these young men have several valuable inventions which are destined to occupy a very important position in the field of organ manufacture, the most important position in the field of organ manufacture, the most important position in the field of organ manufacture, the most important position in the field of organ manufacture, the most important position in the field of organ manufacture, the most important position in the field of organ manufacture, the most important position in the field of organ manufacture, the most important position in the field of organ manufacture, the most important position in the field of organ manufacture, the most important position in the field of organ manufacture, the most important position in the field of organ manufacture, the most important position in the field of the position in the field of the control of the field o tined to occupy a very important position in the field of organ manufacture, the most im-portant of which is a wonderfully simple and efficient electric organ action, which will revo-lutionize many of the features of the present methods of construction, thereby greatly en-hancing the value and utility of the instru-ment and at the same time simplifying the usually complicated mechanism.

Fletcher & Harris are the western agents of Hutchings of Boston, who has the largest organ factory in the United States, and stands at the head of the profession.

They have sold and erected several organs for Hutchings, as well as those of their own manufacture, as follows:

Two Hutchings organs in Pasadena; one of thirty stops in the Universalist Church and one of twenty-two stops in the Episcopal Church; second-hand Johnson organ of thirty-two stops, remodeled by Hutchings, in the Simpson Tabernacle, Los Angeles; three Fletcher & Harris organs; one of twelve stops in the Episcopal Church of Sierra Madre, one of seventeen stops for the University of Southof seventeen stops for the University of South-ern California (now on exhibition at the fac-tory,) and one of twenty-four stops for the new Jewish Synagogue of this city, now build-ing. In addition to these several churches of Southern California are negotiating with Messrs. Fletcher & Harris for organs, and some of them will close contracts before the present instruments, now in process of construction at the factory, at finished.

As an evidence of the quality of work being done by this firm, it may be mentioned that the Purchasing Committee of the Synagogue, after the most careful investigation, awarded the contract to Fletcher & Harris at a higher price than that asked by any of the eastern builders. The Los Angeles factory of the "king of instruments" is a very interesting place to visit, and all persons who are interested in such matters are cordially invited to call at any time this week and see what is being done, and hear the University organ, which will be exhibited in playing order, minus the case, so that the mechanism and pipes may all be seen while the organ is being played upon.

SCARED WOMEN.

Supposed Crazy Man Alarms Pub

Yesterday morning a tall, cadaverous nan walked into the Public Library. Yesterday morning a tall, cadaverous man walked into the Public Library. He wandered aimlessly up and down the rooms a little while, then went up to a woman who was standing at the counter waiting for a book, and fixed his uncanny, glittering eyes on hers. He stared into her face in an evil way, then suddenly burst into a fit of laughter and turned away. The act was repeated several times. At last the library staff grew uneasy and telephoned to the Police Station. Detective Hawley hurried to the scene and told the fellow he must either stop his unpleasant conduct or be turned out. The man promised to behave. But he neither ceased nor went away until the detective had gone back to the City Hall more than once.

At last the man left the library, walked out of the City Hall and off up Broadway. Detective Auble followed, took him by the arm and led him into the Police Station. There the man gave his name as Lindenberg. He said that he was fust recovering from a big spree and was not yet himself again. Whether this is a fact, or whether Lindenberg is a hypo-fiend or a lunatic, has not yet been decided. The man will be detained at the Police Station for medical treatment.

WATCH CALL.

Police Court Officials Want a Change

At present it is customary to try the daily grist of fresh Police Court cases at 1:30 o'clock each afternoon. The people connected with the Police Court people connected with the Police Court would very much like to change this, and have the Police Court session at 9:30 or 10 o'clock in the morning. This would allow the court officials to get the new business all done by 11 o'clock, and leave all the rest of the day free for continued cases.

But there is one objection. The three watches go on duty at 11:45 a.m., 7:35 p.m. and 3:45 a.m., respectively. So, if the policemen who do duty in the night watch were needed in court, they could not get eight consecutive hours' sleep. The court officials suggest that the wetches could he changed to go on sieep. The court officials suggest that the watches could be changed to go on duty at 7 g.m., 3 p.m. and 11 p.m. Then the Police Court could sit at 9:30 conveniently.) Furthermore, the police-men could always go to and from work on the cars.

A big crowd on the streets always implies plenty of lost children. There were four at the Police Station yesterday. First, came a small boy named Phil, then a little girl named Inez Parker. Their mothers soon appeared and carried them off. Next came a boy, Roland Everts, who had come to town to visit his brother Harry during flesta week. Roland came in from Orange. All he could tell about his brother was that he was a plumber, 18 years old, and that he ilves somewhere on South Flower street. The fourth lost child was a little Italian boy, who had been in the station but a few minutes when his mother came for him.

Honeywell in the Hospital. At 6:10 o'clock last evening the patrol wagon was summoned to a place on New High street. There the officers found a man named Honeywell, lying insensible. They took him to the Receiving Hospital. At first it was believed he had tried to kill himself by an overdose of chloroform, but later it was decided that he was merely drunk. How to see Mount Lowe. Like other mountain resorts, the best views are to be had during the evenings and mornings, and the worst in the middle of the day, as that is the time, if ever, the mists of the valley rise and obscure the charming landscape. Besides, for health and pleasure there is no place on the Pacific Coast where a long stay can be enjoyed so much; or where so fine accommodations can be obtained at moderate rates. But visitors whose time is limited can see and enjoy more in one night at Echo Mountain House than in one month at ordinary places. The Great Telescope, the World's Fair Premium Searchlight, the lighted cities below, resombling at night a "lake of diamonds," the magnificent sunsets and sunrises, the wonderful morning and evening echoes, together with a ride over the most scenic mountain railway in the world, afford more lasting pleasure than all else on the Pacific Coast combined. Elegant hotels, superior table, courteous attendance. Numerous suites of rooms with bath. Open wood and gas fire in every room. Telegraph, telephone, express office, postoffice with money order department. Six trains each way daily. 25-cent hotel coupons issued for Alpine Tavern or Echo Mountain to the valley and return, while guests at the hotels. Visitors leaving Los Angeles in the morning car can lunch at Alpine Tavern, 16000 feet above sea level, and take in the grandest horseback ride on the globe to the higher summits, and view the thousands of snowpeaks, with range of four hundred miles in diameter, returning in time for afternoon trains to the valley.

A pointer indicates the location of things worth noting. Chances like Desmond of No. 141 South Spring street is offering this week in his stock of Spring and Summer Hats, Necktles, Shirts, Collars and Cuffs, Gloves, etc., are worth a dogged pursuit, Great opportunities are rare, fleeting, fugitive and illusive, and demand a hot chase for capture. What's the use of being left by delay? It's as easy to come first as last, and first-comers get the cream; don't forget that. Desmond's Special Hat Sale is the chance of a season, and you must be in season not to miss it. Missing chances like this is throwing away money and forcing yourself to pay higher prices for Hats and Furnishings later on. Desmond's, in the Bryon Block, is unguestionably the best place in Los Angeles.

caucus of next Tuesday night and the primaries of April 29. The next meet-ing will be held a week from next Tuesday night.

The hall was comfortably filled with leading citizens and stalwart McKinley workers.

Judge Smith of Department One of the Superior Court, made the opening address and grew eloquent over the cause of the noble principles advocated by the great Ohio statesman, Gov. Mc-Kinley.

Deputy District Attorney Holton followed in a happy vein and succeeded in awakening new interest in the cause of the champion of American protection.

Capt. Cressey, in his address, said:

"I am a McKinley man. He is the grandest and noblest leader of the American people. I am proud of being a true-born Buckeye. During the late war I laid down my Latin grammar and went into the great struggle. We have many noble men. but McKinley is war I laid down my Latin grammar and went into the great struggle. We have many noble men, but McKinley is the greatest of all. He is a member of one of the greatest protestant organizations in the world; a man who fought for the flag during the dark and bloody struggle. Strange, is it not, that he should not receive the heartiest support of all Americans? Who is Clarkson? I knew him as a boy twenty-eight years ago, when he was a lad and a printer on the State Register—a shrewd, unscrupulous fellow. I remember his conversation to me while at the Westminster Hotel, in this city, a short time ago. He said to me: 'I want the Callfornia delegation for Allison as second choice.' I told him we had no second choice. We would be for McKinley first, last and all the time. Clarkson belongs to the old tricky crowd composed of ringsters and bosses like Platt, Quay and other corruptionists."

The speaker concluded amidst repeated cheers from an earnest gathering of determined workers.

William Beckman, president of the Sacramento McKinley Club of 1000 members, followed in a feeling address in favor of McKinley and his noble American principies. He closed by saying that he was delighted with Los Angeles and its evidences of prosperity, and concluded his remarks by saying he wished in his heart that his city had such prosperity.

The city is transformed. Los Angeles The city is transformed. Los Angeles is fair enough in her every-day dress to dazzle the eyes of her guests from many lands, but in her carnival braveries she seems drenched with rainbows. The streets are long avenues of brilliant color. both day and night, for when the sunshine fades from the tossing sea of bright bunting the electric eights flash out, myriads of them, sparkling like jewels in every direction. From the cross-wires of the electric road they the cross-wires of the electric ro are suspended, row after row of living rubles, topaz and emeralds, and from every building the brilliant points of colored flame light up the flowing dra-

In the daytime the arches of olive, gold and scarlet which span the streets wherever the overhead construction of the electric roads lends a support, make long, bright tunnels of all the principal long, bright tunnels of all the principal thoroughtares, and the thousands of timy pennants which relieve the heavier sweep of the side draperies look like flocks of bright-winged butterflies anchored to the wires. All the poles have blossomed out with tropical foliage, and every bare outline is hidden by paim leaves and the graceful sprays of pepper and bamboo; doorways, windows and whole facades of buildings, until a glance down the street gives the impression of a grove decked out in festival array, as in the days when the great god Pan was worshiped with wild revelry, and troops of nymphs and fauns held high carnival under the trees.

COSMOPOLITAN MERRYMAKERS.

People of every race and color have assembled as candidates for citizenship in this cosmopolitan realm of gayety. Eastern tourists swarm theker than bees, dressed in the conventional tourist attire of cheviot and tweed, but sporting broad sombreros, belts of Mexican carved leather and bunches of flesta ribbons; Englishmen saunter «round and try to preserve the national demeanor of wooden indifference to all things; Angeleños hustle to and fro, the men busy and jolly, all allive with interest in the success of the carnival, and the women decked out in spring bravery of silk and muslin, with hats like miniature flower gardens and parasols that are merely huge bundles of lace or chiffon: Chinamen parade the streets in single file, taking mental note of the latest occidental fashions in decoration, jabbering to each other their firm conviction that the solid gorgeousness of their own part of the coming show will beat everything else hollow; the darkies are out in force, dressed in all the colors of the rainbow, and a few more, and the ever-present "Reuben" is on hand in bulk, accompanied by his best girl, for whose sweet sake he bankrupts himself at every lemonade and peanut stand he sees.

Children dressed entirely in the flesta colors dart about in the crowd, at the imminent risk of life and limb, and the small boy gets in his deadly work with the diabolical tin whistle until the listener is inclined to vote Herod the greatest benefactor of the human race. Pale invalids are pushed about in wheel-chairs, basking in the sunshine and enjoying the revelry, and old and young, white and black, have

La Reina de la Fiesta, and her capital city has donned its gayest dress to give a fitting welcome to the beautiful sovereign of merriment and misrule.

All work has been practically suspended as far as outward appearances go, and the only sound of hammers to be heard in the streets come from the direction of some belated decoration, or a spot where the ever-increasing crowd demands the erection of yet another tribute.

ENTERS THE CITY. Arrest of Those Offering Re-sistance—Mounted Lancers—Jon-athan Club in Line—Commercial Men—Mock Chinese Band. Los Angeles was invaded early in the afternoon yesterday by the advance guard of Her Majesty, the Queen of La Fliesta. In anticipation of this event thousands of strangers had gathered to view the entrance to the city and to view the entrance to the city and to note what opposition, if any, would be made to the advancing host by the civil authorities. It was learned with satisfaction that the city had been evacuated some hours previous by the regularly-constituted officials and that a battle would not occur. This was pleasing intelligence to the assembled multitude, though not absolutely correct. It was soon learned no actual hostilities were contemplated, the vis-itation being one of friendliness, and the authorities had gone forth to welthe authorities had gone forth to wei-come the Queen and tender to her the freedom of the city. While thus en-gaged, an interruption in Her Majesty's progress occurred, and her advance guard came in some hours ahead of the main division. TRIUMPHAL ENTRY.

MERRY MASKERS PARADE.

DVANCE GUARD OF HER MAJESTY

Arriving at Hazard's Pavilion, the Queen's Merry Maskers were Joined by others from the city and escorted by the Jonathan Fiesta Club and Commercial Travelers in triumph through the streets. The buildings along the route were handsomely decorated in honor of the city's guest, and far and wide the display of bunting betokened the appreciation with which Los Angeles regarded the approach of La Fiesta's Queen.

preciation with which Los Angeles regarded the approach of La Fiesta's Queen.

The streets in the vicinity of Central Park and the Pavilion were lined with people and much interest was manifested in the formation of the procession. With little delay the various divisions fell into line and, preceded by the buglers, the mounted police cleared a way for the pageant. Charles F. Sloane, the grand marshal, was mounted on a magnificent bay horse.

Thirty lancers, mounted, with lance in rest, under command of J. T. Thompson, made a handsome appearance at the head of the column. Their evolutions were pleasing and their bearing military.

Close behind them came the drum major and Roncovieri's American Concert Band of thirty pieces, from San Francisco. To the music of "La Fiesta March," the leader's composition, especially dedicated to John M. Francis, the parade began. This band has been organized by the leader of the Park Band, that was here a year ago, who took many of the best players from that source, adding to the nucleus thus obtained other players to complete the instrumentation and round out the harmony. The band will be in attendance through flesta.

THE ROYAL PEN.

The ROTAL FER.

Then came the "Royal Pen," presided over by His Satanic Majesty in all the sulphurous dignity with which his character is invested, clad in red, the personification of Mephisto, the ruler of the lower world. Standing on the platform, back of the cage, he stood guard on the gate and passed through to his faithful imps within such luckless mortals as chanced to fall in his way. When not thus engaged he was making court to the ladies in the windows, and on the balconies along the route. His assiduous grimaces, the supple bows with which he recognized every attention, and his cordial acceptance of the bouquets thrown to him showed him to be a very pleasant devil. His imps were of the same general bearing, but of somewhat more humble aspect. They kept order in the cage and gave a warm welcome to the victims hurled to them behind the bars. Just behind the "pen" came thirty of the Queen's merry maskers, dressed

At the City Hall the precincts of authority were invaded, and the looting of the building was commenced by the seizure of such as chanced to have remained in the offices of the city officials. These were carried bodily to the "pen" and thrust inside by the "devil." Fire Chief Moore, or his double, fell a victim, and placards were hung about the necks of the prisoners indicating their offenses or their station in life.

Henry Dockweller was picked up on the street and given a warm corner next to the chief imp on board the wagon. A young lady, representing a typewriter agency, was selzed and placed in the "pen," and an elderly man, who ventured too close to the "devil," was caught and put inside to keep her company. Inanimate figures, made to represent men and women, with sawdust stuffing and hempen hair, were thrown in the "pen," and bouquets dropped from the windows were tossed inside to console the prisoners.

With the Queen's merry maskers was a little fat man in blue clothes and conductor's cap, and badges showing the lines over-which he was supposed to run. On his breast hung a gong, on which he "rung up" the fares as the maskers proceeded. Banners of green and yellow were carried by the pierrots.

MOCK CHINESE ORCHESTRA.

Her Majesty's orchestra had a float to itself, and presented a unique appearance. The instruments used by Chinese musicians, cymballs, drums, flutes, and fiddles, all gave forth sounds of astonishing volume and playing quality the players. gave forth sounds of astonishing vol-ume and piercing quality, the players having learned how to get the right orchestral effects, as well as how to get themselves up in becoming Ori-e-tal style. In padded coats and skull caps of mandarins, they discoursed such music as set the teeth on edge and rattled the dishes in the houses. Pagtalis and all had been assumed by these impromptu musicians, whose western origin did not prevent them from burlesquing the Oriental style of music to perfection. The players were W. R. Dinmore, O. F. Kinney, Elmer Wachtel, Michael Hunt and Ray Ban-croft.

Passing through the business streets, the Jonathan Club kept up a cloud of small cut bits of paper of fiesta colors, floating in the air, and it would have been easy to follow along the route traversed by noting these tinted bits, which gave the pavement a fresh reminder of fiesta. A wagen accomreminder of fiesta. A wagon accompanied the procession, from which the bags were replenished in which each clubman carried his paper ammunition. Those in carriages and on foot who were anywhere within reach were deluged with these bits of paper. ROUTE OF PROCESSION.

Passing up Broadway to Fourth street, the parade passed around the block to Spring and thence back to Broadway, and then to First street. Up Spring to the Temple Block and down Main to Second the strange procession

Main to Second the strange procession wended, counter-marching at that point and coming up First street to Spring. From there it passed down Spring to Third street, over to Main and back on Fourth street to Broadway, then down Broadway to Fifth, and on Fifth to the pavilion, where the order was abandoned.

This first feature of La Fiesta was not intended to be taken seriously. It was a huge farce from beginning to end, a good-natured token that the time of festival had arrived, and that for the rest of the week the city would be en fete. With all its crudities, its atempts at fun and only partial success, it was appreciated by the assembled thousands, who laughed good-humoredly at he pageant and waited patiently for the coming of the Queen. The Ceremonial Committee which had the parade in charge was composed of C. S. Walton, C. F. Sloane, W. R. Dimore, Frank Wilde and Frank Thomas. THE PERSONNEL.

CARNIVAL CRUMBS.

Brief Mention of Various Facts and Incidents.

The savings banks of this city have agreed to close today and tomorrow at noon and Saturday evening, in order to allow their employés an opportunity to participate in the festivities.

The following telegram was received yesterday: GRAND VIEW (Tex..) April 21, 1896.

GRAND VIEW (Tex..) April 21, 1896.
John F. Francis, president La Flesta:
My congratulations on the success of

In the procession today, immediately following the caballeros will be noticed an open carriage, occupied by the oldest inhabitant of Southern California.
His name is Ignacio Francisco de la of day 115 years ago. He has resided in this city for a great many years.

The devils who rode in the cage during the parade of the flesta clubs filled the hearts of the boy spectators with delight. It was enough fun when they merely pranced and gesticulated and cavorted inside the cage, but when bne venturesome imp climbed up on top of the cage, and waved his horns and grinned fiendishly, the crowd roared with applause.

one venturesome imp climbed up on top of the cage, and waved his horns and grinned flendishly, the crowd roared with applause.

Two of the gayest figures on the street yesterday were two little boys whose mother had clad them in gorgeous costumes of flesta colors, with high peaked hats on their heads.

The crowd of small boys that swarmed around the "Queen's Plunder" van, rushing from one to another, jumping up and ringing the big bell, hurling balls of paper at the devils, and blowing whistles in ear-splitting fashion, made much the biggest and livellest of all the flesta clubs.

Upon the formal dismissal of the flesta clubs.

Upon the formal dismissal of the flesta clubs.

Upon the formal dismissal of the flesta clubs the Jonathans marched in state back to the clubrooms, where they were warmly welcomed by the fellowmembers who had not turned out.

One of the most attractive features of yesterday afternoon's festivities was the throwing of confletti by the members of the Jonathan Club. The brighthued bits of paper fluttered over everybody, catching in people's clothes and hair, and blowing along the streets in brilliant clouds. It is probable that confetti has never before been used in America outside of New Orleans. The Jonathan Club cabled to Paris for over 1100 worth of it—several large packing-cases crammed full.

The great float procession will not be today, but Thursday evening, when the "Lands of the Sun" will be depicted. It is suggested that all horses should be kept away from the parade's line of march today, for that dragon is enough to scare even a blind horse.

THE QUEEN NOW REIGNS.

SUCCESSFUL AND UNIQUE CERE. MONIAL AT THE PAVILION.

Royalty Received the Keys to the City Along with the Plunder of the Merry Maskers—The Or-der of La Flesta.

Last evening inaugurated the merry reign of the Queen of La Flesta, and how the city is given over to gayety and frolic during the term of the royal visit to this portion of the fair domain of the sovereign of pleasure.

Hazard's Pavilion was selected as the scene of Her Gracious Majesty's first appearance in her royal City of the An-gels, and here nearly three thousand of her loyal subjects assembled to do her honor and bid her welcome to he bwn again. Here were assembled the merry maskers who looted the city in the afternoon, and here was piled the blunder collected from all quarters as a tribute to the Queen. The Royal Lancers were in attendance and Ran-tovieri's Concert Band filled the air with strains of martial music.

The Pavillon was gorgeous in fiesta tolors, yellow predominating in the drapery which shrouded the walls and galeries. Bright points of color feli from the railing of the topmost balcohy, and the national colors gave a patrictic tone to the scheme of decoration. The royal throne was erected at the right of the stage, which was hidden by the arop curtain. The band being placed in front, on the floor of the hall. The platform destined for the court was raised about five feet from the floor and draped with yellow. The steps leading to it were covered with green and carpeted with scarlet, thus carrying out the prescribed flesta coloring. Upon the platform were placed fanelful wicker chairs, destined for the maids of honor. The throne itself was raised about four feet above the platform and was a gorgeous affair in scarlet and gold. The square canopy was of scarlet satin, striped and fringed with gold, and lined with yellow satin. The royal chair was an exquisite bit of Indian work in carved ebony, upholstered in dark red velvet brocade.

THE SUBJECTS CLAMOR.

Long before 8 o'clock the crush outside the doors was so great that it took all the efforts of the policemen, assisted by the soldiers of Her Majesty, to maintain order. Within half-sarhour the building was jammed to the roof with loyal and enthusiastic pubjects eager to welcome the coming Queen. At 8:20 precisely, Signor Ron-covieri flourished his baton and the spiendid concert band broke into the powerture from "Orpheus." The heralds, gorgeous in flesta uniforms, advanced and took up positions on either side of the band, ready to announce the approach of the Queen. The Royal Lancers lined up beside the entrance to the hall, and in a moment the bugle calls rang out clearly and the band burst forth, into the joyous "Inaugural March," written by Roncenvieri expressly for the occasion. The call was answered from the entrance, and then the corps of Lancers marched briskly up the main alsle and halted, facing in-ward and forming a double line to the

the building, and the beautiful Queen entered the bail, leaning upon the arm of her Prime Minister, T. E. Gibbon, The audience cheered vigorously as Her Majesty advanced slowly up the aisle between the lines of Royal Lancers, and mounted the steps of the throne.

She wore an exquisite court dress of pale-pink satin, powdered over with delicate yellow chrysanthemums and embroidered with gold. The long court train which fell from her shoulders was lined with pale yellow satin and bordered with a deep band of ermine, and the high Medici collar was of gold lace-work, set with jewels, Diamonds flashed upon her white hands and in the silky dark hair, while the crown of gold was set with many-colored jewels, and the scepter, also of gold, was jeweled and finely wrought.

The Lancers subjects in the course of the maraud-marched across the hall once more and took up their positions on guard, while the maskers finished off with the flests yell, gotten up expressly for the occasion, and ear-splitting in its ef-

ADDRESS OF WELCOME.

Hon. R. F. del Valle, grand orator to the Queen, then steppd forward and delivered the address of welcome, expressing the unbounded pleasure felt by the loyal subjects of Her Majesty in thus celebrating her return to this fair portion of her great realm. Since her last visit, great anxiety had been felt for her speedy return, and the joy and merry-making was unbounded when it was announced that she would again favor the City of the Angels with her gracious presence.

On behalf of the people, the orator laid before Her Majesty an account of the vast improvements made in her capital city during the past year, and offered her tributes from the realms of Pomona, Ceres and Flora, as being most fitting for her fair youth and ing trip of the Royal Looters through the city.

The first offering was a camera which had broken down in the vain attempt to do fustice to the beauty of Her Majesty, and evermore refused to work. An owl followed, typical of the wisdom which prevails in the land, and another masker struggled across the stage with a gigantic sack of flour. A chance encounter with an individual troubled with the cabesa grande, who had fled and left his hat in the hands of the looters, was then proven by the production of the hat, which measured about six feet in diameter and was adorned with a gorgeous flests hatband. A sigantic rifle, some ten feet long, was then brought forward as a hint of what would befall any enemy of the Queen, and a great monarch of the air, dethroned by the radiance of her beauty, then floated forward, amid the plaudits of the audience, to pay his respects to the Queen. Further offerings were a mummy of the extinct species of dude, a ham, a chest of tea, press to the eloquent orator whom the people of her best beloved province of Southern California have selected to convey to her their sentiments of loyality, and to the Mayor of her favorite capital, the beautiful City of the Angels, the extreme pleasure with which she has again entered the boundaries of her charming city upon her annual visit. She wishes especially to signify her satisfaction at the evidences of the prosperity and happiness of her people which greet her upon every hand, and to say that she has found her highest pleasure in noting everywhere proofs that her loyal subjects of this most beautiful of her dominions have, during the year which has field since her last visit, garnered in full measure, that prosperity which ever attends such enterprise as fame accords to the people of this favored land. She has noted with extreme gratification that her charming capital has been improved by a thousand structures of use and beauty, and that everywhere, throughout all her domain, the footsteps of those companies of her citizens who have beanded themselves most conspicuous and to name such fare of her people, and to name such as receive her decoration, her Loyal Knights of her Order of La Flesta.

"It has further pleased Her Majesty to inaugurate the existence of this der by tonight confering this decoration upon three of her subjects, who, during the past twelve months of her by tonight confering this decoration upon three of her subjects, who, during the past twelve months of her basence from her favored realm, have been among their fortunes and their subjects of this most beautiful of her dominions have, during the year which has fled since her last visit, garnered in full measure, that prosperity which ever attends such enterprise as fame accords to the people of this favored land. She has noted with extreme gratification that her charming capital has been improved by a thousand structures of use and beauty, and that everywhere, throughout all the foundary that the properson of the general weal, and h most varied and extensive beauties can be encompased at a glarice, and by so doing has attracted multitudes of strangers to Her Majesty's favored province. It is these worthy citizens and eminent gentlemen whom Her Majesty, upon this visit, desires to especially honor by conferring upon them the decoration of her knightly order, a decoration which would be deemed more precious, and which her gracious Majesty desires shall be held in the eyes of mankind to confer higher honor than anything that can be won in the tented field of human suffering and death, because it is conferred for the doings of those things which edd to the pleasure of human life."

DUBBING SIR KNIGHTS.

After the proclamation the Prime Minister commanded the orator and the Mayor to bring forward John F. Francis, the president of La Fiesta, to receive the honor of knighthood. Amid frantic applause that gentleman mounted the steps of the throne and kneit to receive the royal accolade, which was given with a glittering sword handed to the Queen by the Prime Minister. The gold decoration was attached to the coat of the new Knight of La Fiesta, and, after kissing the fair hand of the Queen in courtierlike fashion, Sir John backed cannily down the steps without a stumble.

Prof. T. S. C. Lowe was the next to receive the decoration and admission to the order of La Flesta, and the third was designed for W. C. Patterson, the president of the Chamber of Commerce, but that gentleman and the secretary, Charles D. Willard, both being absent, the medal was given into the charge of Mayor Rader, to hold in safe keeping for the fortunate recipient until his return to the realm of sunshine and merriment.

BADGE OF THE ORDER OF LA FIESTA.

The curtain fell upon the merry maskers and their grotesque pageant, and the band crashed into the overture of "William Tell" as it slowly rose again upon an Alpine scene, cast upon a large screen by a magic lantern. The scenes melted and dissolved into each other, as the music changed, presenting the whole story of the Swiss patriot's struggle for liberty and ultimate victory. An illustration of familiar hymns came next, and then a descriptive nautical piece, representing the American sallor's life at sea, played in honor of Admiral Beardslee, and illustration did with a picture of Old Glory that brought the audience to its feet amid a whirlwind of cheers. A vivid illustration of negro melodles was then given, and then a symphonic poem, the "Dance of Death," adapted from St. Saens. The last musical picture was "The Blue and the Gray," representing scenes from the late divil war, ending with the surrender of Gén. ILLUSTRATED CONCERT.

After the concert the Queen and her court departed, under guard of the Royal Lancers, and, in a few minutes, the vast crowd had dispersed and the first act of the carnival was at an end.

of welcome and submission, tendered Her Majesty a large silver key, which was graciously accepted. In an instant, a fantastic figure, known in ordinary life as Henry Dockweller, but transformed past all recognition by his carnival get-up, sprang forward, and supplemented the gift of the key by a gigantic yellow padiock, declaring that without it the key of the city was of no use, and that it was especially valuable as being the lock of Her Majesty's treasury. This treasure was the gift of her devoted subjects, the Royal Looters, who had been foraging for a suitable tribute to their Queed.

The commanders of the Looters then went on with a blood-curdiing tale of a long, low, rakish craft discovered by Her Majesty's guard off Redondo Beach, and captured, when it proved to be a ship of war sent over by the Emperor of Chinas to carry off the famous Queen of La Flesta and her courl. The marauding vessel was sunk by a charge of the Royal Looters, and her miscreant crew captured and brought before the Queen that the most fitting mode of punishment might be decreed. The commander himself ventured a suggestion that the enormity of the crime demanded that all the editorials of the leading papers of Los Angeles upon the harbor question should be translated into the Chiness language and impressed upon the pirates through the medium of a steam calliope.

At this, five forlorn Chinamen in the background looked apprehensive, and set up a diabolical din on their own musical instruments by way of forestalling the threatened torture. The maskers all fied, but only to return with royal state, and an earnest of what would be accomplished in another year for the glory of the Queen.

As a fitting inauguration of the festival which would mark the joy of the Angelenos at the presence of their sovereign, the orator then introduced the representative of government in the city, and commanded him to deliver up the keys.

PRESENTED THE KEY A MISSING TYPEWRITER

A typewriter was to have been presented, but the commander failed to produce her, and expressed a fear lest she should have been annexed by some one of Her Majesty's enterprising subjects. A portrait of the inmiliar domestic species of nightingale was the next gift laid at the feet of royalty, the Chinese band supplying the appro-to accompany the picture. A mattress and a cake of soap were brought, and the big bear of the Chamber of Commerce was dragged in with triumphant shouts. The last gift was a huge safe, containing the royal jewels, and the looters, having robbed the jewelry stores, presented a large golden key to each maid of honor that the booty might be securely kept.

After the paying of tribute, the Frime Minister, after a low obelsance before the throne, returned thanks for the gifts and the address of welcome, as follows:

PRIME MINISTER'S WELCOME. in the and "I am commanded by Her Gracious own Majesty, our Queen of La Fiesta, to return to you each and all, her most cormask—with Her Royal Highness desires me to ex-the greetings of her orator she returns the command that her loyal subjects, through the length and breadth of her lovely province, shall cast aside for a time the cares of business and forget all serious matters, and shall devote themselves to the service of their sovereign Queen of pleasure. And she accepts, with much pleasure from the Mayor of her capital the keys of her city and with them the loyalty which this act typifles, and shall use them during her reign among you to swing wide the gates, to give entrance within your walls to every joy and pleasure." The trumpets of the neralds then blared forth again, in anouncement of the royal proclamation, which was read by the Prime Minister on behalf of the ROYAL PROCLAMATION. THE ROYAL PROCLAMATION.

THE ROYAL PROCLAMATION.

"It has pleased her gracious Majesty our Queen, to command her Prime Minister that he make a proclamation to her loyal subjects, of this her most favored province, and its charming capital, that she has been highly pleased at observing upon this, her yearly visit to her city, the evidence of a wonderful advance in all the fortunes and concerns of her beloved people. Her Majesty has caused inquiry to be made by her servants into causes which can produce a condition of affairs so gratifying to herself and so favorable to the happiness of her subjects. She has been informed that there are among you various companies and persons, who, during the period of her absence from your midst, have, at much cost to themselves, devoted their time and means to advancing the welfaire of her people.

"To express pleasure which this information has brought her, and to reward some of her public-epirited citizens most conspicuous for such patriotic services rendered to her realm, it has pleased Her Majesty to found and constitute on order of knightly merit, to be named and forever known as the Order of La Fiesta. Her Majesty has caused the artisans of her court, sunning and skilled in the working of precious metals to design and execute in gold the decoration of the order, and upon each of her yearly visits to her capital, it is Her Majesty's intention to confer this decoration upon two or three of her subjects, who, during the

The City Hall was well-nigh deserted yesterday and will be even more soli-tary today. It was revealed yesterday on what grounds the anti-annexation ists will contest the recent election their bill of complaint having been pre-pared and made public.

READY FOR A FIGHT. Steps Taken to Contest the Annexation Election.

Members of the City Council were interested in other matter than the flesta proceedings, although no formal meeting of the municipal Solons was held in the City Hall. lons was held in the City Hall.

The subject of interest and of more or less discussion through the day was the fact that the anti-annexation people, who were supposed to have been efple, who were supposed to have been effectually squelched by all the proceedings of the city to assume control of the recently-annexed territory, are now displaying remarkable activity, even to the extent of having had prepared by their attorneys, Mitchell & Cattern, a formal bill of complaint, setting forth in startling details, why and wherefore the last election and the proceedings leading up to it were illegal.

Yestarday the complaint was forwarded to the Attorney-General of the State, who is in form obliged to be a party to the proceedings against the city. The complaint will receive his signature, and be returned to the County Clerk. The case will then go to the Superior Court of this county, and will of course be defended by the City Attorney.

The complaint declares that the city

The complaint declares that the city
Los Angeles has unlawfully atnpted to exercise control over the trict known as Ploo Heights, Vern and Rosedale, which district was district known as Pico Heights, Vernon and Rosedale, which district was assumed to have been annexed to the city by an election held March 21. In showing that the proceedings leading to this election were not legal, the complaint alleges that the petition for the election was defective in that it cannot be ascertained therefrom what territory was sought to be annexed. The second call for an election, in describing the boundary lines referred to "Alameda street north of Slauson avernee." It is claimed that there is no record of Alameda street ever having been laid out, platted, recorded or declared a public highway, and that the street cannot be located. Therefore the easterly boundary of this annexed territory cannot be determined.

The third call is alleged to have been defective, in that, where Slauson avenue was referred to, the avenue does not appear upon the public records of Los Angeles, cannot be located, and does not exist, and hence it is impossible to ascertain what was intended to be the south limit of said territory sought to be annexed to the city. The fourth call is said to be defective by reason of its also referring to Slauson avenue, and the fifth call is equally defective, because the boundaries is refers to can not be located without the fourth call of said description being determined, and the sixth call also hinges upon the correctness of the fifth.

The haw requires that a petition for an election of this sort must be signed of the fifth.

The law requires that a petition for an election of this sort must be signed by one-fifth of the qualified electors of early and the complaint says that an election of this sort must be signed by one-fifth of the qualified electors of a city, and the complaint says that the petition in question was not thus signed, there being about 600 of the signers to the petition who were not qualified electors of the city of Los Angeles at the time they signed the petition, and their names did not, and do not now appear on the Great Pegister of the county.

The next item of irregularity urged by the "antis" is that the election notice was never published in any newspaper outside the city and in the cunty of Los Angeles. It was published in the "University Courier," but the "antis" affect to believe that the said "Courier" is not and was not a "sure enough" newspaper. Hence the election, and no legal notice was given them.

The complaint alleges that for the purpose of securing a majority vote the annexationists "gerryman-lered" the precincts, with the assistance of the City Counil, so that the voters became bewildered as to where their ballots should be cast, and thus the "antis" remained at home while the "pros" hied them to the polls and won the day.

The complaint declares that "prior to tis" remained at home while the "pros" hied them to the polls and won the day.

The complaint declares that "prior to the establishment of said precincts, boundarles, or polling places it was agreed between the city and those in favor of annexation, that in consideration of the calling of said election the annexationists would defray all expenses of said election incurred in said territory so proposed to be annexed, and under guise of curtailing the expense of the annexationists, but in reality, to prevent a full and fair expression at the polls of the sentiment of the people residing therein, the said precinct boundarles and polling places were made and changed as aforesaid."

The "antis," in their complaint claim that a constable was employed by the "pros" at Rosedale to drive away all challengers, and that at Pico Heights the polls were closed before 5 o'clock, thus preventing many "antis" from casting their votes. They further claim that many persons voted on certificates issued by the County Clerk fifteen days prior to said election, and that these votes were cast and counted in violation of law. At Pico Heights the complaint says the polls were not opened until after sunrise, contrary to law, and that at Rosedale many illegal votes were allowed to be cast by the judges. In coming to the action of the Council in canvassing the election ballots, the "antis" claim that seventeen ballots were rejected because of the "X" mark not having been made in the proper square, but that the mark was made in a manner indicating the wish of the voters. These seventeen votes were against annexation.

In conclusion, the complaint, which is a lengthy document, declares that about forty voters who were opposed to annexation and would have so voted were, by fraudulent methods, prevented from so doing, and after declaring that the Legislative act of 1889, providing for the annexation of territory to cities, is contrary and repugnant to the State Constitution, the makers of the complaint demand judgment that the city of Los Angeles be "excluded from all corporate rights, privileges and franchises within such territory attempted and pretended to have been annexed."

W. S. Wright yesterday notified the City Council that, in addition to the "Scott" electric franchise, he has pur-"Scott" electric franchise, he has purchased the plant of E. E. Peck, who has acquired some notoriety by reason of his electric-lighting operations in the southwestern part of the city. It is generally understood that Wright is simply the agent of Peck, and that it is the latter who has acquired the "Scott" franchise, which he will use as authority to operate his plant. This being true, the manner in which Peck will light the City Hall, is easily explained. His plant will furnish the power, and the wires of the Traction Street Railway Company, which can be rented for that purpose, will provide transmission for the light. Given these two things, Peck will have no difficulty in living up to the terms of his franchise, which provides that the City Hall must be lighted before April 26, 1896.

When the jury brought in its verdict, the women in the courtroom clapped their hands, and the mother of young Nichols hastened to Deputy District Attorney McComas's side, shook his hand, and thanked him amidst a flood of teers for conducting the case in a nand, and thanked him amust a nood of tears for conducting the case in a gentlemanly manner and without undue harshness toward her son.

LIFE OF WARFARE.

The Brickers Are an Unhappy

Family.

The Bricker divorce case was called in Department Six yesterday forenoon, and by 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon had been submitted to the court without ar gument. It was one of the raclest cases gument. It was one of the raclest cases that has been heard with open doors for a long time. The title of the cause was William G. Bricker vs. Hattle G. Bricker. The defendant was represented by J. Marion Brooks and made a hard fight against the court granting the decree. Mrs. Bricker was on the witness stand during much of the trial, and she told of the family rows with glib tongue and sparkling-eve. Fistic and slipner consparkling-eye. Fistic and slipper contests seemed to have not been unusual in the inharmonious home. She denied being responsible for a scar on his head, but admitted blood did flow from the imprint of a slipper hurled at his head. imprint of a slipper hurled at his head. Upon one occasion she had been knocked insensible by her husband. He was unfaithful to her and had said he thought more of a certain woman's little finger than of her whole body. She had even labored like a slave to retain his love and make home life pleasant. Mr. Bricker had charged her falsely with being untrue, "and even with you" said she, directing these words to Mr. Brooks, her attorney.

From the allegations of plaintiff's complaint and the counter charges of both in their testimony before the court, it would seem cruel to bind them to further marital existence.

Last Night's Rain.

Yesterday afternoon, before the parade of the fiesta clubs was over, light clouds began to gather in the sky. As the day wore on they collected in heavy, piled-up masses. About 10:45 o'clock there was a soft patter of rain o'clock there was a soft patter of rain drops on the roofs. After an hour of intermittent drizzling, the clouds broke and in a very little while the moon and stars were shining in a cloudless sky. The rain was disastrous to the more fragile decorations, such as Japanese lanterns, but it was not heavy enough to do much damage. It will have served to wash all the dust from last week's winds out of the air and make the rest of flesta week pleasanter than if there had been no rain.

At 2:15 o'clock a.m. the sky again became overcast and heavy clouds rolled up which threatened more rain.

FIELD OF ELECTRICITY.

THE LARGEST ELECTRIC YACHT IN

Domestic Electricity-Tele phones and Thunderstorms Electric Alarms in a Warehouse

(CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.) NEW YORK, April 18, 1896.—Cheap electricity is now the byword of power producers, and many hitherto neglected sources whence electric current may be derived are now being investigated. A question well to the fore is the utilization of the culm piles which have been accumulating about the antirectic coal ccumulating about the anthracite coal mines and which, moreover, are occupy-ing valuable space. This culm, or the finer portion of it, is almost entirly pure carbon. It is mixed with coal of all sizes, from bird's-eye up to stove size. In this condition it is not an economical fuel, as the finer portion burns first and the larger is wasted with the ashes. It can only be used as a fuel economically at, or near the banks, for hauling o andling it increases its cost, delivere to a point approximating that of a graded coal. It is estimated that 20 per ent. of all the coal removed from the nines is in the culm banks, which are cent. Or all the coal removed from the mines is in the culm banks, which are now veritable mountains. A commission appointed by the Governor of Pennsylvania, comprising some of the best mining experts, reported that these banks contained not less than 315,700,000 tons of coal. In the Scranton district alone there is an annual deposit of culm of 1,400,000 tons, or the equivalent of a stream of energy of over 75,000 horse-power-fully three-fourths of the energy of the great water power at Niagara Falls. Nelson W. Perry, in lecturing recently on this subject, described a process for converting this fuel into a fuel gas, which, with coal at $4.50 per ton, would cost but 6 cents per 100 cubic feet. The fuel can be burned in a furnace with the blast produced by a steam injector. The use of such a cheap fuel would naturally reduce the cost of electric power, but Mr. Perry maintains that energy in this form could be more cheaply transmitted—for could be more cheaply transmitted—for the distance of a mile, at all events— than the same amount of energy could be transmitted electrically. IN THE WORLD,

The building of John Jacob Astor's new electric yacht, which is to be the new electric yacht, which is to be the largest craft of its kind in the world, cannot fail to give an impetus to electric boat construction in this country. Mr. Astor is well known as an electrician of considerable knowledge and skill, and he has already followed with great; success this particular line of electrical work, having constructed first the Corsia, a small storage battery boat, and then the Progresso, a forty-six-foot electric launch. The new boat will be 72 feet over all, 12 feet beam and 4 feet draught. She will be fitted with two 72 feet over all, 12 feet beam and 4 feet draught. She will be fitted with two twin screws, which are to be run by two electric motors capable of developing at least fifty horse-power. She is to have a maximum speed of sixteen miles an hour, her ordinary speed being about ten or twelve miles an hour, and her batterles will run ten hours without recharging. The battery cells, numbering 480, will be placed so as to cause not the least obstruction in any way. Two Tobin bronze centerboards will be raised or lowered by electric capstans from the promenade deck. So as to be quite independent of her electric battery, should occasion arise, the new yacht will be rigged as a schooner, with ample sail plan. The large roomy gailey will be fully equipped for electric cooking, and electric heat will be used throughout the boat. The pumps will be electrically operated, as well as the whistes, which will consist of an elaborate outfit of chimes. The entire boat, will banking and exterto finish will outfit of chimes. The entire boat, decks, planking and exterior finish will decks, planking and exterior finish will be of polished mahogany, except the gunwales, which will be of quartered oak. The forward cockpit will be eleven feet long. Next abaft comes the saloon, eight feet long and the entire width of the boat; then the owner's stateroom, 7 feet long and the whole width of the boat. Next abaft on the port side is the galley, and on the starboard side a spacious toilet room for the crew, provided with folding wash basins and fresh water tanks. The after cockpit is seven feet six inches long. The berths and all the apartments will be most handsomely upholstered.

Important evidence on the much-mooted question of the influence of telephone wires on lightning has been telephone wires on lightning has been secured by the German telegraph department. An inquiry was set on foot with a view to ascertaining whether the danger from lightning was increased or diminished by the presence of the miles of overhead wires, which make up the network of a telephonic system. The result of the inquiry has been to show that the telephone wires sensibly diminished the violence of thunderstorms, and lessened the risk of lightning. A comparison made between 340 towns having a telephone system, and 560 not so provided, showed that the raite of the risk of damage from lightning was as 1 to 4.6 in favor of the former, while the frequency of flashes during a thunderstorm was lowered in the proportion of 3 to 5.

Nothing in a house saves the wear and tear of servants so much as the telephone, and even in private houses, many of the principal rooms are now being equipped with this indispensable instrument. A Berlin firm has very much simplified the matter of domestic telephony, by the construction of miniature instruments for small installations, which are likely to be of service for hotels, hospitals, factories, ships, cabins, etc. The transmitter and the receiver are attached to each other, and form a very small, pear-shaped pendant, resembling a bell pull. When conversation is desired, the two parts are readily separated, the ear is placed TELEPHONY.

The microphone is formed of a corrugated carbon disc, and grains of carbon. The apparatus can be suspended anywhere. It is cased in vulcanite, wood, or aluminum, and is extremely light. The recent introduction of the telephone into the kitchen by an American company is a step in the same direction. For 50 cents a month, the housekeeper can put a one-way telephone into his kitchen, and thus call up the grocer, butcher, coal dealer, florist, plumber, or any other retail merchant on the telephone servretail merchant on the telephone service, and give orders. This is a great convenience, and at the rate of less convenience, and at the rate of less than 2 cents a day, is remarkably cheap. is automatically registered. The watchman after 6 o'clock at night cannot go out of the building without a record of the same being made in the office. He can go from the fireroom to the office and will be required to make a register of his arrival in the office and in the engine-room. Should a door be opened on any of the floors the fact will be announced in the office by the annunclator, and the time the door was opened will be indicated on the twenty-four-hour register. Should spontaneous combustion occur in any of the storerooms it will be made known by the office annunciator. The watchman will then go to the floor on which the fire exists, and as he passes through the doors in will be announced in the office and the time registered. When he gets back to the office a test is made to show whether he has or has not closed the doors. If the stylus punches, the doors are closed, if not they have been left open. The floor containing the open door is also recorded. The system is connected with the police station and the fire department. Any burglar desiring to get into the building would have before him a very weary and complicated task. He would have to go to a street some distance from the building, climb a high pole, thread his way through a thick network of wires, taking his risk of those that happen to be alive, and be able to pick out for cutting the four lines running to the storage house. ELECTRIC LAMPS FOR PHOTO-ENGRAVING. An improved arc lamp of high candle-power has been specially designed and

Photo-engravers and electrotypers who have used this lamp report that they are now able to make prints in three to four minutes, where formerly they would have to use six 2000-candle-power arc lamps for double the length of time, in order to secure the same result.

very dirty; the dirt is simply distributed over the whole of the floor space, and then the car, rank with impurity, is packed full of people, to the imminent danger of even the most robust. Oftentimes there is not even a pretence of drying these gratings, and they come out of the stable wet and unwholesome. The air in the cars is frequently bad to the verge of pollution, and these two causes alone are sufficient to account for a very large proportion of lung disease. It would be a simple matter to dry the gratings every night; the floor of the car should be regularly washed, and some little care should be taken to let in air when the car is not in use. A little public spirit, with its accompanying protest, would soon lead to a remedy for these impositions; but if the public are too selfish to make such a move for the general good, the Board of Health, in each city should see that the street cars take a lower rank than they now frequently do as breeders of disease.

The French Religious Budget. The French Religious Budget.

In France the cultus, or religious budget, has been reduced f.8.500,000 a year since the days of the Presidency of MacMahon, in 1878. In that year it was f.53,500,000, but for 1896 at is only f.45,000,000. The reduction has been caused chiefly by decreasing the salaries of the clergy, the total amount of that reduction being f.2,742,495. he is located, and his own chain is just too provokingly short to permit him to make sure of this important point. Every little dog is frantic with jealousy because the other little dogs are petted too, and shrill shricks of defiance are hurled through the cracks all down the line, mingled with soft little whifflings of satisfaction as some one is petted and praised.

line, mingled with soft little whifflings of satisfaction as some one is petted and praised.

One atom of a Chihuahuan terrier, several degrees smaller than the proverbial minute, occupies a pink and white nest near the entrance, and has three fluffy poodles for neighbors, one with a wistful little pink face and a large appetite for caresses; another a demure little ball of creamy fluff, and the third an animated powder puff with a remarkably penetrating soprano voice. A string of comical pugs comes next, each with an inky and extremely retrousse nose, a tall curled tight enough to lift his hind legs off the ground, and several yards of aristocratic pedigree. Japanese pugs, deliciously ugly and good-natured, are mixed in with the lot, and much neighborly conversation goes on along the row.

Several artistically-ragged Yorkshire Several artistically-ragged Yorkshire terriers and a dear little hoodlum of a Scotch terrier vie with each other for pats and kind words, but their protesting notes are almost drowned in the deafening chorus that comes from the rest of the row. This is occupied by twenty-seven slim, alert thorough-bred fox terriers, who contrive, after the manner of their kind, to make themselves seen, heard and felt above all other attractions. Every terrier is bent upon scraping acquaintance with every visitor who approaches, and strict impartiality must be shown in the distribution of caresses, for one extra pat bestowed upon a particularly lively and fetching bundle of wriggles, is enough to make all the others turn in and swear at him until he cannot hear himself think.

swear at him until he cannot hear himself think.

Three bulldogs represent the tough element of dogdom, and look capable of reducing the entire show to mincemeat if the opportunity should offer, while several handsome, knowing, treacherous collies lurk in dignified seclusion next to their lively neighbors. A few black poodles are there, resembling nothing so much as bundles of inky carpet-ravelings, and a number of funny, little short-legged dachshunds divide the honors and the noise with the fox terriers across the way.

Spaniels occupy the rest of the boxes in this room, and a handsome showing they make, a beautiful Irish water spaniel heading the list, and black spaniels, and cocker spaniels, much ruffled as to attire and very friendly as to demeanor, fill the remaining kennels.

The other two rooms are devoted to

The Great Danes are not so quiet, for there are seventeen of them in all, and they would like nothing so well as to get out and indulge in a general all-around scrimmage. Most of them are ready to offer a friendly paw to the visitor, but some resent any familiarities with savage barks indicative of rumpled nerves and a general dissatisfaction with the existing condition of things.

Six huge mastiffs expressed a wild desire to break their chains and settle accounts with each other, and with the Great Danes, and thunderous challenges to "step up and have it out" are flung back and forth, to the dismay of the long row of beautiful, mild-eyed setters on the other side. English setters here divide the honors with the silky, golden-brown Irish setters, and the curly, black-and-tan Gordon setters. Three Chesapeake Bay dogs occasionally fling out a note of defiance, but prefer to spend most of their time in slumper, with their backs to the medding Three Chesapean ally fling out a note of defiance, but partially fer to spend most of their time in slum-ber, with their backs to the madding fer to spend most of their time in slumber, with their backs to the madding crowd.

The third room is the noisiest of all, for here are the pointers, thirty-five of them, engaged in a noble competition for the final settlement of the question as to which can yell the loudest and longest, and lean the farthest out of his box without getting his wind entirely cut off by the strain on his collar. Every mother's puppy is spoiling for a fight, and blue molding for a chance to chew the ears off his next neighbor, but he is forced to content himself with politely informing him that he is a measly scrub, anyway, while the insulted dog yells "You're another," and snarls defiance until his collar chokes him again, and he sits down to plan schemes of future vengeance.

An old Irish wolf, hound, with a snaggy coat and gray whiskers, sits in lonely state at the end of a long line of superb St. Bernards, who occasionally thunder out a reproof to the shricking pointers opposite. These magnificent creatures have not much to say for themselves, but do the heavy dignity act for the entire show, and sing has to the general chorus when the occasion demands.

In point of number and general excellence as well, the dogs on exhibition are far and away shead of the canines that have been exhibited under the club's auspices in the past. That the gentemen who take an active interest in the animal they term "man's best friend," have learned valuable wisdom by their experience gleaned in the seven previous years is evinced by the improvement manifest in the exhibition now in progress.

At the back of the building is the sawdust arena, where the dogs are led out to be judged. Here the owners are gathered, keeping a proud and anxious eye on their pets as J. Otis Fellows of New York, the veteran judge who has presided at many a bench show, pokes and prods the canine beauties and finally awards the significant ribbons. The dogs stand the ordeal fairly well, and seem to be quite aware of the fact that they are on exhibition and expected to look their best. They betray the liveliest interest in each other and seem oblivious to the crowd.

The work of Mr. Fellows yesterday and last evening resulted in the winning of first, second and third prizes by the following dogs in the classes specified:

The four-legged singers are not niggardly with their music, and warble on with unabated vigor, serenely regardless of both snubs and applause. Three long rooms in the lower story of the Newell & Gammon Block, No. 131 South Broadway, are decked out with fiesta colors and fitted up with row upon row of neat little box-stalls, kept spotlessly clean, and containing dogs of every size, condition and quality of voice. Great Danes thunder out their deep, sonorous roar, tiny fox terriers yap shrilly in high C, and dozens of spaniels, fox hounds, pointers, setters, spaniels, bulldogs, mastiffs, poodles and pugs clamor all up and down the gamut of dog music:

SANTA ANA CONVENTION

PRINLEY AND BOWERS DELEGA ON ELECTED YESTERDAY.

the Keynote of the Convention. Outbursts of Enthusiasm-Ring-ing Resolutions Adopted.

SANTA ANA, April 21.—(Regular Correspondence.)
County convention to select delegates to he State convention at Sacramento to select delegates to the national Re-sublican convention at St. Louis, us well as delegates to the as well as delegates to the Beventh District Congressional con-vention, was held in Neill's Hall, this city, today, and from the work of the convention there remains no doubt as to what Orange county will do in the selection of a Presidential candidate at St. Louis and a Congress from this Seventh District. It is a Mc-Kinley and Bowers delegation and they go to Sacramento pledged to do all in Kinley and Bowers delegation and they go to Sacramento pledged to do all in their power by honorable means to send the Hon. U. S. Grant, Jr., of San Diego to St. Louis as one of the delegates-alt-large from this State.

The names of McKinley, Grant and Bowers were signals for outbursts of enthusiasm during the convention, and the resolutions adopted touching upon the restriction of foreign immigration, protesting against the use of public money for any other than free schools, demanding a longer residence of foreigners before being entrusted with the ballot, demanding the enforcement of the educational qualification of voters, indorsing the Hon. W. W. Bowers for Congress and closing with a ringing resolution for Maj. William McKinley of Ohio as the Republican Standard-bearer for the campaign of 1898, seemed to meet with the hearty approval of the entire delegation, and when a vote was called for the adoption of the resolutions as a whole, they were enthusiastically accepted with a ringing unanimous vote.

THE WORK IN DETAIL. Chairman Craddick of the County Central Committee called the conven-tion promptly to order at 10 o'clock, Central Committee called the convention promptly to order at 10 o'clock, and called upon Secretary George Peters to read the call of the convention. This being done, S. Armor of Orange was nominated as temporary chairman. He was elected by acclamation, there being no dissenting voice.

Mr. Armor, upon taking the platform, stated that he need not outline any plan of work for the rank and file of the Republican voters of Orange country. It was enough to say that we need a government for the people of the United States and not for foreign countries. After a few more pointed remarks he declared the convention open for business, and called for the election of a temporary secretary. George E. Peters of Santa Ana, upon motion of S. M. Craddick of Orange, was selected to fill this position.

Upon motion of H. K. Snow of Tustin the chairman was instructed to appoint a committee of five on credentials. On motion of H. E. Smith of Santa Ana a committee of five was asked for on platform and resolutions, and on motion of H. K. Snow, again, still another committee of five on permanent organization and order of business was requested from the chairman. Mr. Armor then declared a recess of fifteen minutes until he could select the different committees, which resulted as follows:

Following the reading of the names Following the reading of the names of the committeemen appointed, B. C. Barker of Villa Park moved that the convention adjourn to 1 o'clock p.m. This motion carried unanimously. Temporary Chairman Armor rapped the convention to order promptly at 1 o'clock, when the report of the committees was called for.

COMMITTEE REPORTS Committee on Organization and Order of Business submitted the following report: "We, the Committee on Organization and Order of Business, beg leave to report as follows:
"First—On permanent organization we would recommend that the officers of the temporary organization be made permanent.

RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED. The Committee on Resolutions brought in the following report:

"We, the Republicans of Orange county, in convention assembled, declare: First, we believe that more stringent laws for the restriction of foreign immigration are necessary; second, we indorse the free school system of the country and protest against the use of public money for any other schools; third, we demand a longer residence of foreigners before they are entitled to or trusted with the ballot; fourth, we demand the enforcement of the educational qualification of voters, as adopted by the people of California in 1894; fifth, we indorse the Hon. W. W. Bowers as our choice for Representative to Congress from this district; "Resolved, that of all the names mentioned we believe that the Hon. William McKinley is the most logical of any of the statesmen named to lead the Republican hosts to victory in the coming Presidential election; therefore, be it further "Resolved, that our delegates to the State convention are hereby instructed to work for the selection of delegates to the national convention who will use all honorable means consistent with their duty as American citizens to bring about the nomination of Maj. William McKinley for President.

"B. C. BARKER, Chairman." D. H. Thomas, Secretary."

Upon motion of H. E. Smith of Santa Ana the report was heartily and unanimously adopted.

NOMINATIONS COMMENCE. NOMINATIONS COMMENCE.

Nominations for three delegates at large were called for. S. Hill nominated T. J. Alexander of Santa Ana, H. K. Snow put the name of W. H. Burnham of Orange before the convention, W. A. Becket named Linn L. Shaw of Santa Ana and Mr. Landell nominated W. L. Hale of Fullerton. Messrs. S. Armor of Orange and H. K. Snow of Tustin were each placed in nomination by Messrs. H. E. Smith of Santa Ana and B. C. Barker of Villa Park respectively, but both gentlemen declined and their names therefore were stricken from the list.

Chairman Armor instructed the convention to vote for three of the four men nominated.

Pending this preparation H. L. Hemenway of Laguna moved that each of the gentlemen nominated express themselves in reference to their preference for President and Congressman from this Seventh Congress District.

T. J. Alexander said that he stood behind the platform adopted by the convention; that he was for delegates to St. Louis who were in favor of Maj. William McKinley for President and for Hon. W. W. Bowers for Congress.

W. H. Burnham proposed to abide by the will of the convention, but he preferred that the delegates to Sacramento and Modesto be not tied up by instructions that would prevent them from considering any exigencies that might arise from this time until the date of the conventions.

W. A. Becket stated for Linn L. S. Shaw, who was absent in San Francisco, that he was authorized to state for Mr. Shaw that he was for McKinley or President and Bowers for Congress.

W. L. Hale answered, McKinley and Bowers every time. Nominations for three delegates at arge were called for. S. Hill nomi-ley for President and Bowers for Congress.

W. L. Hale answered, McKinley and Bowers every time.

Before the voting was begun S. M. Craddick of Orange moved that each candidate for delegate-at-large appear before the convention and state whether or not, if he be elected, that he would either attend the convention himself, or if he could not so do, that he would give his proxy to some one of the other delegates selected by the convention. This motion carried unanimously and each candidate was then called up, all agreeing heartily to adhere to the instructions stated in the motion.

THE MEN ELECTED. THE MEN ELECTED.

The official count showed that Messrs

THE MEN ELECTED.

The official count showed that Messrs.
T. J. Alexander. Linn L. Shaw and W.
H. Burnham were the choice of the convention, and they were therefore declared elected. The convention then being divided off into supervisoral districts, the work of selecting supervisoral delegates was begun. The result was as follows: First District, Dr.
M. A. Menges of Santa Ana; Second District, O. J. Buck of Westminster; Third
District, H. W. Chynoweth of Anahelm; Fourth District, D. C. Pixley of Orange;
Fifth District, S. W. Preble of Tustin.
The supervisoral delegates selected were then called out and asked to state their positions—whether or not they would stand back of the resolutions adopted by the convention. Dr. Menges stated that he indorsed the platform adopted and that he was for McKinley delegates to St. Louis and Bowers for Congress from this district.
On motion of Craddick of Orange his selection was ratified. O. J. Buck of Westminster was for McKinley flatfooted and every time. On motion of B. C. Barker of Villa Park his selection was also ratified. H. W. Chynoweth of Anahelm fully indorsed the platform and he pledged himself to do all in his power for McKinley delegates to St. Louis and Bowers for Congress.
On motion of R. E. Larter of Westminster, his selection was ratified. D. C.
Pixley of Orange stated that while he was a strong admirer of Mr. Allison, he could not, under the pressure of the great popular demand for the Ohio statesman, do that which he deemed was not the wish of the convention or the people. He was, therefore, for McKinley for President and he would do all in his power to send McKinley delegates to St. Louis. He was also for Bowers for Congress. was not the wish of the convention or the people. He was, therefore, for McKinley for President and he would do all in his power to send McKinley delegates to St. Louis. He was also for Bowers for Congress. Upon motion of Walter Robinson, the work of his supervisor district in nominating him was ratified. S. W. Preble of Tustin was a fond admirer of protection's advance agent—Maj. McKinley. He always believed in protection to our American industries. He believed in high tariff and he thought William McKinley was more of a tariff representative than any other prospective candidate for the exalted position of President of the United States. He was, therefore, for him and also for Bowers for Congress. Upon motion of H. K. Snow his selection was ratified.

Upon motion of Mr. Snow of Tustin an assessment of 50 cents each was levied upon the delegates to defray the current expense of the convention.

A member of the convention made a motion to assess the spectators $1 each, whereupon Mr. Brainard, an old blind gentleman well known throughout the county, who was one of the spectators, brought down the house by getting the floor and stating that he was not a delegate; but he must confess that he could not see the point.

THEIR DUTY EXTENDED.

THEIR DUTY EXTENDED. S. M. Craddick of Orange called attention to the fact that the delegates selected were chosen for the State convention only, whereupon, upon motion of S. Hill of Santa Ana, a motion was passed constituting the delegates se-lected to the State convention as dele-gates to the Seventh District Congress Convention to be held at Modesto Convention to be held at Modesto May 4.

John McFadden took the floor to say that the Supervisoral delegates had not put themselves on record in reference to going to the convention themselves or sending proxies. S. Hill thought they had instructions in the platform adopted and if they did not live up to instructions they had better never return to Santa Ana, but each one, in turn, was called out and all agreed to go themselves or to give their proxy to some one of the other regularly selected delegates chosen by the convention.

A SENATORIAL CONVENTION.

A SENATORIAL CONVENTION.

S. M. Craddick brought up the matter of a Senatorial convention in this district and read the following letters from the chairman of the Republican County Central Committees in Riverside and San Bernardino countles:

RIVERSIDE (Cal.,) April 3, 1896.—S. M. Craddick, Esq., chairman Republican County Central Committee, Dear Sir: The Republicans of Riverside county will support for the nomination of Senator any Orange county man who the Orange county Republicans agree upon. The Senatorial convention cannot be held until after the county convention is held, for the reason that the Senatorial delegates will have to be selected at that county convention.

It will be very agreeable to us to have the Senatorial convention head in Orange county. When our county convention will be held I cannot say at the present writing. I shall be happy to hear from you at any time and you can rest assured that we are with you. Yours truly,

A. S. WHITE.

SAN BERNARDINO (Cal.,) April 12, 1896.—S. M. Craddick, Chairman Republican County Central Committee. Dear Sir: Yours of 8th received. I know of no candidate for Senator in this county and it seems to be generally thought that Orange is entitled to that honor this year. All I have talked with think from first to middle of September early enough for holding the convention. Our county convention to choose delegates to State convention will be held at Colton on the 25th of this month. It is probable that the Senatorial question will be decided and I may write you again, if any action is taken. Yours truly, N. G. GILL, No action was taken upon either of these letters.

Chairman.

No action was taken upon either of these letters.

Dr. A. B. Hayward of El Modena, the oldest delegate in the house and a resident of the Santa Ana Valley for the past forty or more years, secured the floor and after paying a brief but beautiful tribute to the memory of the great statesman and commander, Ulysses 'S. Grant, deceased, asked the convention to indorse the Hon. U. S. Grant, Jr., of San Diego for delegate-at-large to the Republican National Convention in June. Every one knew that Mr. Grant, Jr., was a strong McKinley advocate, and he was indorsed as delegate-at-large to St. Louis by acclamation that made the walls of the hall echo.

There being no further business to transact, the convention adjourned with three rousing Maj. McKinley protection to American industry cheers that fairly lifted the great hall roof from its holdings.

WEATHER AND CROPS.

Report of Conditions During the Past Week. \

The climate and crop bulletin of the eather bureau for the week ending weather bureau for the week ending Monday, April 20, as compiled by Observer George E. Franklin, reports:
Remarkable cool weather for the second decade of the month of April prevalled during the past week; frosts were frequent at the close of the week, being heavy in many places and doing considerable damage to garden truck, corn. vineyards and grain in the porthcorn, vineyards and grain in the north ern districts. The cold weather, with the absence of fructifying rains, re-less warm sunshine and plenteous precipitation occurs soon it is doubtful if the seeds now in the soil will mature. There were showers in some sections, but the precipitation was too light to be of benefit. The deciduous fruits escaped injury from frosts.

San Luis Obispo county—San Luis Obispo city: On the 10th inst. 16-100 of an inch of rain fell accompanied by hail which did no injury, but freshened up feed and grain; subsequent frosts on the 15th and 16th insts. damaged barley and killed potatoes, beans and flowers, but no injury has been reported to fruits.

Musick: Hail fell during the storm of April 10, but without injury to crops or fruit. On the mornings of the 15th to the 18th, we had severe frosts with cold windy days and light showers, which did great damage to vineyards, fruit, vegetables, early corn, potatoes, tomatoes and corn being killed to the ground. The vineyards were damaged more than ever seen in this section of the country before.

Ventura county—Bardsdale: The weather was cool and dry. Frequent appearances of rain passed without precipitation, which is badly needed for late grain. Prune orchards in many cases are putting out bloom repeatedly and there will be some fruit.

West Saticoy: The cool nights and west winds have been detrimental to growing crops. There was some frost in exposed places. Highest temperature, 70 deg.; lowest, 35 deg.

Los Angeles county—Los Angeles city: Remarkably cool weather prevailed during the week with frequent frosts at the close. The lowest April temperature ever recorded at the weather bureau office occurred on the morning of the 20th, being 1 deg. less than the previous record. Frost injured peas, potatoes, corn and other tender vegetation. Highest temperature, 66 deg.; lowest, 38 deg.: the mean temperature for the week was degrees less than the normal.

Lancaster: Part of the week was windy and cold with some frosty nights. Showers fell Saturday.

La Cañada: The nights were cold for this time of the year and light frosts formed on Thursday and Friday nig

SEASON'S HOG PACK. Referring SEASON'S HOG PACK. Referring to the decrease in the western back, the Price Current says: "When the summer season began, in March, 1895, the prevailing expectation was that the marketable number of hogs for the eight months would be largely reduced. The special investigation instituted by this office resulted in an indication of about 10 per cent. decrease compared with the exceptionally large supply of 1894. This information was well supported by the reported marketings. Under the influence of drouth, apprehensions concerning maladles, and apprehensions concerning maladies, and fear of serious decline in values, the movement in many localities was hastened in the latter part of the season, and as a result the records of packing indicated a smaller reduction than otherwise would have been shown. The decrease in western packing was $17,000, or 7 per cent. The total number killed in the West during the eight months was $,195,000 hogs. This had been equaled previously only in 1894 and 1895."

Speaking of this the American Manufacturer says: "We are informed that this rate was made for one month only. Although this movement was heard of with surprise by many connected with the trade, it was begun some time ago, and its origin can be easily traced. The fact is the steel makers found themselves compelled to do something in the way of living prices, as the higher cost of maiterial made such a step absolutely necessary. A short time since advanced prices for iron ore for the coming season were announced by the ore-producers. For the highest grade Bessemers of the old ranges $4 was fixed, and for the best grades of the Mesaba range from $3.40 to $3.75 per ton was announced. This, added to the higher cost of fuel, made higher figures for billets necessary. Accordingly the arrangement was made, and at this writing a meeting for completing its details is being held in New York city."

Handling California Fruits.

NEW YORK, April 21.—(Special Dispatch.)
The Journal of Commerce says that there is much interest being shown just now in fruit circles regarding the methods of handling California deciduous fruit, the season for which is now at hand. The first shipment of California cherries has already arrived, and car lots are expected early in May. No definite arrangement for the new season has thus far been made by the New York receivers. It is believed, however, that the receivers generally will endeavor to adjust their differences of previous years, at least to the extent of having all fruit sold in one auctionroom. It is still probable that, while the selling may take place at one place, two fruitsuction houses, Brown & Secomb and the E.
L. Goodsell Co., may both participate, and it is also considered probable that the fruit will come east from Chicago by the two routes that handled it last year, namely, the Erie and West Shore. President Weinstock of the California Fruit-growers' and Shippers' Assoclation is expected in the city tomorrow to try to adjust matters. Receivers are awaiting his arrival and every consideration will be given to his suggestions. It is probable that concessions will be made on all sides, so the single auction-room idea may be given a fair trial.
It is expected the receipts here this season will be much heavier than in the past.

CHICAGO, April 21.— There was a good wheat trade. The feature was the free seiling of May, liquidation being quite pronounced early in the day, several of the larger commission houses being active on the seiling side. Influences at hand were a little bearish at the start, cables coming weak, Liverpool being off ½@¼d, according to public advices, and Berlin was half a mark lower. The weather was more favorable, fair and cool weather was more tavorable, fair and cool conditions prevailing in the spring wheat ter-ritory. The predictions by the signal service,

There was a better demand at 2.50@3.60 for poor to prime sheep, few going below 3.00, for poor to prime sheep, few going below 3.00, and sales were largely at 3.00@3.30 for Texans and at 3.40@3.50 for westerns. Lambs were in active demand at 3.50@4.50 for common to choice flocks and spring lambs were wanted at 5.00@6.75 per 100 pounds.

London Financial Market.

NEW YORK, April 21.—The Evening Post's London financial cablegram says that there was a further pronounced list to Americans today, with increasing activity in the more quiet features. There was a genuine investment demand for bonds, while the speculation in shares also increased. Louisville and St. Paul were especially favored. Prices closed a little under the best. The markets gengrally were good although there was a reaction at midday on Baron Hirsch's death, he being a large holder of all English and other stocks. The markets finally closed good with some recovery in the mines. I gather that more gold shipments from Germany may be occasioned because of the remittances from Berlin to London in connection with the new chinese loan, but I do not pretend to have definite knowledge as the matter is not properly understood here. The Indian government has announced a 2½ per cent, loan on just over £2,000,000. This is a record, India never having issued a loan before under 3 per cent. This is aiready quoted at 4 cents premium, such is the demand for first-class stocks. In connection with the further decline in Paris exchange on London, gold is being bough here for France. The Paris Bourse was steady and the Berlin Bourse firm.

sun shines and the multitudes enjoy the flesta at Los Angeles. There has been a light sprinkle at intervals all day today and the indications are for a downpour tonight.

The lemon-growers of this county are in session this afternoon to hear the report of a committee appointed some time ago to investigate the various lemon and other fruit associations with a view to organizing a local association and the necessary curing and packing houses. The committee report favors the establishment of a headquarters with curing and packing house in this city, with others at Goleta and Carpinteria when the business demands; it also favors handling other fruits besides. Bylaws similar to those of other fruit associations in Southern California were submitted with the report. The organization will doubtless be perfected in a few days.

The tickets to be used at the Republican primaries on the 29th inst., will contain the names of all those who desire to be delegates to the county convention. Voters will also be given a chance to express their choice as to Presidential candidates.

The Supervisors have declared the Great Register of this county "out of date," and a new registration must be had.

(New York Mail and Express:) The statistics collected for the Mineral Industry, the annual statistical supplement of the Engineering and Mining Journal, show that the total mineral and metal production of the United States for 1895 amounted in value to $628,689,505. The increase over 1894 was $84,226,503, or 15½ per cent. For many of the articles included the production was the highest on record.

The Festive Parther.

The New York Mail and Express recalls George Augustus Sala's description of how he first became acquainted with Delmonico's. "I had some literary business to transact with a great publishing firm somewhere near the bottom of Broadway," he wrote, "and my interview with them had not been of a very pleasant nature. It seemed to me that they shared the peculiarity ascribed by Canning in matters of commerce to the Dutch, of giving too little and asking too much. There were three partners, but at the outset I only saw 'two of' them. One was a very methodical gentleman, bristling all over with figures, the other seemed to be of somewhat a theological tendency; but I could not make, in the way of business, anything satisfactory of either. I left the office in dugeon, and was wending my way up Broadway toward my hotel when I heard a quick step behind me A hand was laid on my arm, and I was accosted by a little, short gentleman, who introduced himself to me in the friendliest imaginable manner. You didn't get along very well with our people,' he remarked. 'You have seen the arithmetical partner, and the plous one; I, sir, am the festive partner Oysters on the half-shell and a bottle of champagne at Delmonico's at once." And over that lunheeon, which, by the way, developed beyond the oyster stage, Mr. Sala had a satisfactory business talk.

Santa Ana met Monday evening with all members except Hervey, present.

A sealed bid was received from the Los Angeles Oil Exchange for 500 barriels of fuel oil at $1.10 per barrel, and for 1000 barrels at $1.20 per barrel. The bid was referred to W. F. Lutz from the Third Ward, with power to act.

Ordinance No. 227, to prohibit certain kinds of gaming in the city of Santa-Ana was read for the first time, and, on motion, referred to the City Attorney.

on motion, referred to the City Attorhey.

Ordinance No. 228, determining that the public interest and necessity of the people of the city of Santa Ana demand the acquisition, construction and completion of an electric-light plant for said city of Santa Ana, the cost of which improvement will be too great to be paid out of the ordinary annual income and revenue of said city, and declaring the intention of the Board of City Trustees to have and procure said improvements to be acquired, erected and completed, was read for the first time and, on motion, was referred to the City Attorney.

A resolution to purchase the electriclight plant of the Santa Ana Gas and Electric Light Company for $4000, was passed, providing bonds are voted to put in an electric-light plant for the city of Santa Ana.

A committee of three, consisting of Messrs. Hunt, Whitney and Lutz, was appointed to prepare plans and specifications for an electric-light plant for the city of Santa Ana.

The board then adjourned to meet Monday, May 4, 1896.

that he expected a much severer sentence even than he received.

Southern has had a bad record from childhood up, having repeatedly been before the courts for various manner of violation of the law, both criminal and otherwise, but this is the first instance in which he has been convicted of a State's prison offense. His attorneys in the case of the murder of Cuero made a hard fight for him, but the evidence so plainly pointed out his guilt that the Jury was only a short while in arriving at the conclusion that Southern killed the Indian without just cause.

Deputy Sheriff Ulm left on the northbound train today for the north, with the prisoner.

THE PUBLIC WINS.

By the action of the City Council Monday evening in agreeing to call an election to vote bonds for the construction of an electric-light system, to be operated by the city the same as its present efficient water system, the public has won a fight of great value to the city. It has been a long time coming, but right will always rule in the end. The opposition to municipal lighting on the Board of Trustees could not hold out any longer. So with the provision injected into the proposition that the city buy the present inefficient the provision injected into the proposition that the city buy the present inefficient that the cugstion to tite proposition to the gardiness of the construction of the Santa Ana Gas and Electric Company for $4000, it votes to submit the cugstion to the people. So with the provision injected into the proposition that the city buy the present inefficient plant of the Santa Ana Gas and Electric Company for $4000, it votes to submit the question to the people. The city will now dispose of the present plant to the best advantage possible, providing the vote for bonds carries and it are doubt will, and then a new and complete system, of capacity sufficient for the needs of the city for years to come, will be put in. The residents of Orange county do not propose to longer remain in darkness. They want light. They have wanted it for two years and more and now they are really going to be given an opportunity to vote on bonds to make the lights.

RIVERSIDE POLITICS. Whatever soreness there may be remaining from the "turning down" of the old-time leaders of the Republican party in the county, and there is considerable, the fact remains that great uniformity of praise is heard of the work of yesterday's convention in instructing for McKinley. It is true that there were certain signs of the presence of representatives of the Southern Pacific Railroad, and slight efforts were made to prevent the indorsement of the Ohio statesman, but the strength of the McKinley forces was manifested so early in the day that no serious effort was made to stem the tide of popular demands. It is settled that the delegates will, in all probability, favor the election of H. H. Sinclair as delegate from the Seventh Congress District, It is claimed that he will have the solid support of Riverside, San Diego and San Bernardino counties, all of which will stand as indorsing McKinley.

POMONA.

Runaway Accident-Ulber is in Jail-Fruit Damaged by Frost. POMONA, April 21.—(Regular Correspondence.) A serious runaway accident occurred on South Garey avenue this afternoon. While a man named Foster and his wife and little son were coming into Pomona from South Riverside, the team of horses that were drawing their conveyance took fright drawing their conveyance took fright at a newspaper blowing along the road and ran at full speed northward. Near Phillips avenue the horses turned, and, throwing the carriage against the trunk of a tree, the family was hurled out upon the ground, while the team dashed on two or three blocks farther and was caught. Mrs. Foster's left arm was broken above the elbow and her head also frightfully torn and bruised. She was for a time hardly recognizable by her acquaintances because of the blood that streamed down her face and mingled with the soft mud there. Mr. Foster escaped with bruises in a dozen places and a sprain of his wrist. The little boy landed on soft earth a dozen feet from the carriage and had no severe injury. The family resides at Glendora.

S. I. Ford, who is one of the most experienced and reliable fruit-growers S. I. Ford, who is one of the most experienced and reliable fruit-growers in Pomona Valley, says that the recent frosts in this region have cost the fruit-growers in this vicinity many thousands of dollars. In the southern part of Pomona Valley he finds apricots as large as filberts frozen and dead and he believes that all that region south of the city of Pomona has lost all its apricots and peaches this year, while prunes and English walnuts have been badly blighted. A. L. Taylor, who has veen examining the condition of the growing deciduous fruit crops, makes a similar report. The northern and higher part of the valley seems to have suffered nowhere near the damage to fruits that has come to the southern part. Potatoes and even tomatoes are growing thriftily there, and except in exposed localities, there does not appear to be much injury done.

Morris M. Dewey says he has examined some growing apricots on the Packard tract today and he finds no damage there by frost, Frank P. Firey thinks there has been little damage by frost in the northern portion of the valley, except in the wine grape vineryards of Fred J. Smith and G. Mirande, which have suffered severely.

SANTA MONICA.

Change of City Administration-Im-

Change of City Administration-Important Bond Question.

SANTA MONICA, April 21.—(Regular Correspondence.) The retiring Board of Trustees had its final meeting Monday evening, all the members being present. The Street Committee reported recommending that the application of the Sunset Telephone and Telegraph Company for a renewal of the franchise under which it operates in this town be referred to the incoming board, which recommendation was adopted. Trustee Vawter moved that the bill of Mr. Chatfield for street sprinkling, which bill had been rejected, be allowed. The bill was allowed by a vote of Trustees Vawter, Lewis and Carrillo, Trustees Jones and Roth voting against it.

Just before the result of the vote was announced, Trustee Jones said he could prove that there were eighty-six hours charged for in the bill, which time the sprinkling cart had been idle. Trustee Vawter pointed out that the bill had been sworn to, and he thought it singular that Mr. Jones should draw the line of economy in this case of the demand of a laboring man, when only two weeks ago he would not vote to forfeit a certified check deposited with a bid for sewer work. To this remark Trustee Jones replied that the two cases were not parallel. The City Engineer submitted a profile of the alley running from Utah avenue to Railroad avenue, and between Third and Fourth streets. The matter of grading the alley was referred to the new board. An ordinance was adopted ordering the grading of Tenth street between Nevada and Railroad avenues.

The last of the business to come before the retiring board having been completed, appropriate remarks bearing on the relations that had existed between the several city officers were made by City Attorney Tanner, Mayor Carrillo and Trustee Roth. The board adjourned sine die and the new board was organized, it consisting of Messrs. Carrillo Roth and Jones, hold-over members, and Messr. R. C. Gillis and Moses Hostetter, new members. Mr. Jones was elected chairman, after which he made suitable remarks. The board then adjourned to meet Wednesday evening.

A question has arisen in reference to the issue of $40,000 in sewer bonds of this town, which, if applied to other cities throughout the State, it is believed may have far-reaching results. In the recent decision of the State Supreme Court in the matter of the issue of refunding bonds by the city of Los Angeles the Supreme Court, it appears, decides that payments on the bonds cannot be made in New York, but must be paid in each instance at the office of the treasurer of the municipality where issued. The proceedings for the issue of the Los Angeles refunding bonds were under an act of the Legislature which provides that payments may

EFFECTS OF THE DECISION. EFFECTS OF THE DECISION.

City Attorney Tanner, when asked in reference to the matter, today said:

"The bonds of several municipalities of Southern California containing a provision that the principal and interest should be payable at a designated bank in the city of New York, have been passed upon by the leading bond attorneys of the United States, among them notably Judge Dillion of New York (author of 'Dillon on Municipal Corporations,') and declared by them to be valid securities. But our Supreme Court in department has 'with a stroke of the pen' declared that bonds which by their terms are made payable outby their terms are made payable out side the State are void, thus invalidat ing municipal securities aggregating millions of dollars. If this decision be correct all bonds issued by the city of millions of dollars. If this decision be correct all bonds issued by the city of Los Angeles within the last few years, the Riverside electric light bonds and Roverside street bonds amounting to $130,000 are invalid, and I am credibly informed that the recent issue of bonds by the city of Pomona have the same defect. All of these bonds have been declared by eminent legal authority to be valid. The bonds of our town will have to be placed in the same category. Every municipal corporation in the State of California should take hold of this matter and render assistance to Mr. Dunn, the City Attorney of Los Angeles, in procuring a rehearing of this case, and if the rehearing is granted assist the court in coming to a proper decision of the case by a careful search of authorities. The municipal credit of the cities of California is in great danger. I have consulted with numerous attorneys of this county, and they are unanimously of the opinion that, if possible, this decision should not be allowed to stand."

As is well known in Hanford, Miss Weyman left her home in Omaha, Neb., in search of good health. Before her arrival she was but the ghost of her real self. Now she is strong, brimful of energy and perfectly beautiful. Although she used several bottles of Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla, her face showed no signs of a pimple, a blood spot or a Sarsaparilla trade mark. The reason is obvious. Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla, unlike the iodide of potassium sarsaparilla, contains only herbs—California herbs and herbs that will dry up the facial blemishes and purify the blood without throwing out spots on the face. Listen to Miss Weyman: "You may tell the manager of Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla that I am delighted with California in general and with Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla in particular. MEDICAL MEN MEET.

DEATH UNDER DISCUSSION...

enty-sixth Annual Convention of the Medical Society of the State of California—Pertinent Points

the Medical Society of the State of California, held at Odd Fellows' Hall, began at 9 a.m. yesterday. The programme laid out will not be completed until tomorrow evening. Dr. W. G. Cochran, chairman of the Committee of Arrangements, welcomed the visiting members in a clever address, which was replied to by Dr. R. Beverly Cole on behalf of the strangers.

The real business of the meeting began with the report of the Committee on State Medicine, "Hyglene and Adulterations of Food." Dr. H. S. Orme, the committee's chairman, read its report, which was discussed by Dr. W. R. Cluness of San Francisco and others.

Dr. A. W. Perry spoke on "Public Management of Epidemic Disease," and was followed by Dr. G. F. Hanson, with a paper on "Some Examples of Drug and Food Adulterations." Dr. Hanson gave some most startling facts and figures, showing how those necessary commodities are adulterated by disreputable dealers. It seems that no less than 120,000 pounds of balsam of copaiba is claimed to have been sold in the United States last year, while the fact is, only 8000 pounds of the drug were imported. Of the adulterated foods Dr. Hanson made particular mention of sugar, coffee, milk and cider, as those most dangerous to human health. He also quoted a personal experience, wherein he found horse meat being sold to the people of San Francisco by a Baden butcher.

The afternoon session was opened by Dr. Emmet Rixford, chairman of the Committee on Pathology, who gave an illustrated lecture on "Protozoic Infection." Dr. George W. Lasher opened the discussion on the subject and was followed by Dr. D. W. Montgomery.

Dr. Montgomery then read a paper on "Expthema Caused by Medical Preparations." An "Experimental Study of Reflex Emphysema and Hitherto Undescribed Affections," was read by title and referred to the Committee on Publication because of the absence of the author, Dr. Albert Abrams.

This ended the pathological discussion, and the subject of "Gynaecology" was taken up. Dr. Beverly MacMonagle first read his written ideas ip Yesterday morning an excited Italian walked into the Police Station and saluted Clerk Gradley. "Look at that!" saluted Clerk Gradley. "Look at that!" he cried, and lifted up a pretty little dog and set it on the desk. The animal presented an amazing appearance. Some heartless person had painted the puppy in flesta colors. Its soft, white hair had been covered with splotches of red, yellow and green till it shone more resplendant than any dog in the city.

more resplendant than any dog in the city.

Isidoro Lafranchi was very angry. He is an ice cream man. Yesterday he left his cherished dog tied in his barn. When he returned he found that some one had gaily bedecked it in fiesta colors, and then turned it loose. Lafranchi wanted someone arrested at once, but he could not tell who ought to be arrested. He said he believed an Italian candy-peddler of his acquaintance had done the deed, but the only evidence he had to offer was the fact that this Italian owned some coloring extracts of fiesta hue. Lafranchi bemoaned his dog's unhappy lot and said he believed the dog would die from the effects of the painting, that the coloring extract would enter into his system and cause death. But finally he went away uncomforted, taking the most gorgeous dog in the city along with him.

...WORLD-FAMED CHINO RANCH.

San Bernardino County,

5 miles southeast from the city of Pomona. The location of the largest beet-sugar factory in the United States.

THE CHINO RANCH has a national as well as a State reputation as a principality unsurpassed for fertility. The direct results obtained from cultivation of the sugar beet alone place a permanent and solid value on the land, REMEMBER the beet crop takes but five months' time from planting to harvest and the immense return from this great product is well known. A READY MARKET IS RIGHT AT HAND and there can be no fallure in prices. The land we offer, however, is EQUALLY SUITED TO THE GROWTH OF DECIDUOUS AND CITRUS FRUITS, and investigation can bet satisfy you that this acreage is unquestionably the finest in all of this great State of California. SUIRINITIONS of alternative withstanding this fact, the TERMS OF PAYMENT are ABSOLUTELY EASY, making A PURCHASE possible and WITHIN THE REACH OF ALL who are prepared, in working, to do the land justice. Care of the Teeth.

Teeth should be brushed after Teeth should be brushed after each meal, using a good tooth powder once a day at least, preferably in the morning. If the teeth are only brushed across the outer surface, as is usually done, the food is forced between the teeth instead of being removed. The best results are obtained by brushing from the gums toward the ends of the teeth, so that the points of the bristless may enter as far as possible the spaces between them. Further and more detailed instruction in the care detailed instruction in the care of the teeth may be had upon application.

Just now is the time to have your worthless teeth extracted, and without pain, to be ready for a plate for the spring opening!

We always have several hundred sets of teeth on hand for you to select from to suit any individual case.
